This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CLEVELAND, May 21st, 1857.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA met, agreeably to appointment, at the city of CLEVELAND, Ohio, on Thursday, the 21st day of May, A.D. 1857, at 11 o'clock A.M., in the Second Presbyterian Church—the place designated by the Committee of Arrangements—and was opened with a sermon, by the Rev. LAURENS P. HICKOCK, D.D., the Moderator of the last Assembly, from Exodus 17 : 11, 12, 13 : "And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand, that Israel prevailed: and, when he let down his hand, Amalek prevailed. But Moses' hands were heavy: and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon: and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun. And Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people, with the edge of the sword."

The Standing Committee on Church Extension, having examined the Report of the Trustees of the Church Erection Fund, recommend the adoption of the following report:

We see, in the statements which are given by the Trustees of the Church Erection Fund, abundant evidence that this Fund, according to the present plan of distribution, must prove a means of incalculable good to our missionary churches. We find, thus far, no reason to doubt that the most sanguine hopes of the contributors to this Fund will be fully realized.

In consequence of important changes in the relations of our Synods, since the first apportionment of the Fund was made, it is found expedient to vary the apportionment, at least for the ensuing year, so as to allow

To the Synod of Utica, 2 per cent of the Fund.
" " Geneva, 2 per cent.

The report was adopted.

The Assembly, agreeably to previous order, proceeded to hear the reports of the Committees on the Synodical Records; and, on the recommendation of the respective Committees, the Records of the following Synods were approved as far as written: Albany, Utica, Geneva, Onondaga, Susquehanna, New-York and New-Jersey, West-Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio, Cincinnati, Peoria, Iowa, Virginia, and Tennessee.

The Records of the Synod of Genesee were also approved, with the following exceptions:

1. Page 76: The Synod made two clerical members of Presbytery a quorum for transacting business.

2. Page 80: On entering upon judicial business, it does not appear that the Moderator enjoined upon the members, to regard their high character as judges of a court of Jesus Christ.

3. Page 89: The report of a Committee is not recorded.

The Records of the Synod of Pennsylvania also were approved, with one exception, viz., "that it does not appear from the book, that the Records have ever been approved by the Synod."

The Records of the Synod of Indiana were also approved, with one exception, viz., that, on page 342, the Records of Greencastle Presbytery are reported as approved, with exceptions, while these exceptions are not spread upon the Minutes of the Synod, as required in Form of Government, Chap. VII., Sec. 1, Art. 3.

The Records of the Synod of Illinois were also approved, with four exceptions.

1. They contain no record of approval by the General Assembly since 1854.

2. They do not contain the Narrative on the State of Religion which was presented by the Committee on that subject at the sessions of the Synod in 1854: p. 434.

3. They do not contain the report of the Committee on Religious Exercises, mentioned on page 435.

1. That the Records have not been before the Assembly since 1854.

2. At a meeting in Midway, October, 1854, it was ascertained, after a sermon, that there was not a quorum. The Record reads, that the Committee, the members present, adjourned, from time to time, until a quorum. Rule 2d reads: "If a quorum be not assembled, any two members may adjourn." This phraseology is preferable to that of a Committee; as Committees are only known as such when constituted officially.

The Records of the Synod of West-Tennessee not being present, the Committee were discharged.

The Committee on the Records of the Synod of Mississippi made a report, and, pending a motion to postpone the adoption of the report, the Assembly adjourned.

After some discussion, the previous question was moved and sustained; and the further consideration of the report on the Records of the Synod of Mississippi was postponed.

The Assembly proceeded to the unfinished business of Wednesday, viz., the report of the Committee on Education, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee, to whom was referred the Report of the Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry, respectfully report, recommending the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. The General Assembly recognizes, with gratitude to God, the organization of the Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry, and the appointment of a General Secretary, Rev. Thornton A. Mills, D.D., who has entered on the duties of his office; also, the fact that the Report of the Committtee presents and enforces the foundation principles of this work, especially in its relation to Churches and Presbyteries.

Resolved, 2. The Assembly, deeply impressed with the importance of a plan of action, which shall develop the resources of the whole Church, and bring each section of the Church to the work of training its own ministry, adopts the arrangement recommended in the Report of the Permanent Committee, with some additions and alterations, in the following form:

1. It is the duty of the Church, in obedience to the Saviour's last command to preach the Gospel to every creature, to give constant and becoming attention to the increase of the Ministry.

2. The Presbyterian Church, in its Congregations, Sessions, Presbyteries, Synods, and General Assembly, possesses a superior system of means for conducting this work in a most successful manner.

3. It is particularly desirable, that each Presbytery should make the subject of the Ministry a topic of serious consideration in its stated meetings, at least once every year; and adopt arrangements, to have presented to the churches, through their own ministers as far as possible, the wants of our Church, our country, and the world, in this respect; to press on young men their duty to give themselves to this work; on parents their obligation to dedicate their children to it, and train them for it; and on individual churches their privilege and duty, to see that all their sons, who give promise of suitable qualifications for the ministry, are sought out and encouraged to enter it; to make adequate provision for the education of all such, as are in circumstances to need their aid, and who show by their characters and improvement that they are worthy of it; and to see that in each church an annual collection is made in behalf of this cause.

4. It is important, that the claims of the Christian ministry on pious young men, in a course of education, should be publicly presented once every year in all the Colleges within our bounds; and it is recommended that the General Secretary, in connection with the officers in these institutions, secure the performance of this service.

5. While the General Assembly does not design to interfere with the action of separate Churches and Presbyteries, or the combined action of a number of them in their synodical capacity, it decidedly recommends its Permanent Committee as the bond of union and medium of coöperation in this work; and it is hereby urged upon each Presbytery and Synod, whether coöperating or not with that Committee, to forward, through its Stated Clerk, to said Permanent Committee, at some time in the month of April in each year, a full report of its doings, in reply to such questions as may be proposed to it; and the information so given shall be embodied in the Annual Report of the Committee to the General Assembly.

6. Each Presbytery, designing to coöperate with the Permanent Committee, shall appoint annually a Standing Committee on Education for the Ministry, whose duty it shall be, to examine and recommend, in the vacation of the Presbytery, such young men as require assistance from the funds at the disposal of the Permanent Committee; and to exercise over them such pastoral supervision as may be possible, while they are prosecuting their studies. And all such Committees are hereby enjoined, to give strict attention to the rules prescribed by the Permanent Committee, in any recommendation which they may make, so as to avert dishonor from this enterprise of the Church, and avoid the waste and misapplication of its funds.

7. Every Presbytery, coöperating with the Permanent Committee by presenting the subject to its churches annually, and taking collections to be paid to the general treasury, shall be entitled, as far as the means placed at the disposal of that Committee will allow, to receive aid for all candidates for the ministry under its care, however much the appropriations to them may exceed the contributions of such Presbytery.

8. It is recommended to all the churches so to arrange their contributions to benevolent operations, that the uniform time for that in behalf of Education for the ministry shall be the Sabbath preceding, or succeeding, the last Thursday in February of each year, the day of the Annual Concert of Prayer for Colleges.

9. As it is desirable that this cause should assume a prominent and permanent place in the contributions of the churches, it is recommended, to those whom providence has favored with means, to endow temporary scholarships, by the contribution of the requisite sum each year to assist a student through his theological course; or the contribution of such a sum each year to assist one through his literary and theological course; or by the establishment of permanent scholarships by donations or legacies, under the management of the Permanent Committee; and, to afford facility and security in doing this, the Permanent Committtee are hereby directed, to apply to the Legislature of the State of New-York for a suitable act of incorporation. And, until such act is obtained, individuals designing permanent gifts or legacies, are requested to place them in the legal charge of the Trustees of the Presbyterian House in Philadelphia, for the use of the Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry.

10. The General Assembly would not claim any authority over the institutions where our ministry are educated; but it is hereby requested of the Faculties of the Union and Auburn Theological Seminaries in New-York, of Lane Seminary near Cincinnati, and Maryville Seminary in Tennessee, and of any other similar institutions hereafter established, to furnish the General Assembly each year, through its Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry, with a written statement of their condition, advantages, and prospects, the names of their Professors, the ordinary yearly expenses, and any other matters of general interest to the Church, to be read to the Assembly, and published as an appendix to the Annual Report of the said Committee; and the General Secretary is hereby charged, with the duty of presenting this request annually to said Faculties, in time to receive their written reports before the meeting of the General Assembly.

Resolved, 3. This General Assembly approves the rules, adopted by the Permanent Committee, for aiding young men in their preparatory studies for the ministry, with some alterations, as fitted to prevent the introduction of incompetent and unworthy men to this office, and at the same time to afford suitable encouragement to those whose piety and talents give promise of usefulness. When any alterations are made in these Rules the Permanent Committee are requested to report the same to the General Assembly.

Plan for aiding Beneficiaries.

1. Each applicant for assistance shall present a certificate of recommendation from a Presbytery, (or its Standing Committee on Education,) stating, that he has been in the communion of the church at least one year, and that he has been carefully examined as to his experimental piety, his motives for desiring the sacred office, his attachment to the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church, his general habits, his prudence, his talents, his studies, his gifts for public speaking, his need of assistance, his disposition to do all in his power to sustain himself, and his willingness to observe the rules of the Committee. Such certificate must also state, whether the candidate is in his Academic, Collegiate, or Theological course, and the amount requisite to carry him through the first year.

2. While it is highly desirable, that all who receive assistance should be under the supervision of the Presbyteries to which they would naturally belong, and should be recommended by them, yet if, owing to the present position of the Education cause, or other important reasons, a Presbyterial certificate cannot be obtained, it may, at the option of the Permanent Committee, be substituted by a certificate of the same import, from any Examining Committee, appointed by them for such purposes, at any educational institution where the student is pursuing his course.

3. The amount granted to any applicant shall not, unless in very peculiar circumstances, exceed one hundred dollars for the Academic, one hundred and twenty dollars for the Collegiate, and one hundred and forty for the Theological course per annum, to be paid in quarterly installments upon the return of schedules to be filled up by the student, and his instructors, and the approbation of the same by the Permanent Committee.

4. Each applicant shall give a receipt or acknowledgment to the Treasurer, for the amount which from time to time he may receive, promising to repay the same with interest, if he fail to enter upon the work of the ministry within a reasonable time, or turn aside to any secular pursuit; unless the Presbytery to which he belongs shall certify, that there are good reasons for his relinquishing the active duties of the office, and recommend the canceling of the obligation.

5. Individuals receiving aid shall be under the pastoral supervision of the Presbyteries recommending them, and also of the General Secretary of the Permanent Committee; and will be expected to undergo renewed examinations on passing from one grade of their general course to another.

6. No payment shall be made in advance.

7. As the appropriations of the Committee are made on the principle of helping those who help themselves, and are insufficient for the entire support of a student, it is expected, that the student and his friends will make all proper exertions to assist in defraying the expenses of his education.

8. Each student aided is required, to pursue a thorough course of study preparatory to a three years' course of Theological studies, unless the Permanent Committee, and the Presbytery under whose care he is, in the exercise of a wise discretion, shall decide that his circumstances require that his studies shall be abbreviated.

9. When any student shall find it necessary to relinquish study for a time, to teach, or otherwise increase his means of support, he shall first obtain the consent of the Permanent Committee; and, if he shall not be absent from study more than three months, his appropriations will be continued; but if longer, they will be discontinued, or continued in part, according to circumstances.

10. When a student has ceased, for a period longer than a year, to receive assistance from the Committee, he shall be required to produce new testimonials before his name can be restored to the roll.

11. When the official relation between a student and the Committee ceases, or is about to cease, he is required to notify the General Secretary of the fact, stating the reason.

12. The reception of an appropriation, by a student, shall be considered as expressing a promise, to comply with all the rules and regulations of the Committee.

13. If at any time there be discovered in any student such defect in capacity, diligence, prudence, and especially in piety, as would render his introduction into the ministry a doubtful measure, it shall be considered the sacred duty of the Committee to withdraw their appropriations. Students shall also cease to receive assistance, when their health shall become such as to unfit them for study, and for the work of the ministry; when they are manifestly improvident, and contract debts without reasonable prospects of payment; when they marry; when they receive the assistance of any other Educational Committee; when they fail to make the regular returns; or cease, by change of circumstances, to need aid.

14. As all intellectual acquisitions are comparatively of little value without the cultivation of piety, it is expected and required of every candidate, to pay special attention to the practical duties of religion; such as reading the Scriptures, secret prayer and meditation; to attend upon religious meetings on the Sabbath, and during the week; to endeavor to promote the salvation of others; and to exhibit at all times a pious and consistent example.

Resolved, 4. While the Assembly feels the importance of a thorough organization of the Church, for the accomplishment of the work of Ministerial Education, it is at the same time deeply convinced that success will not attend the enterprise, unless the earnest efforts of its friends are united with prayer to God, that, by the abundant outpouring of the Spirit, the life of the Church may be made more vigorous, and large numbers of the youth of our land be converted to Christ.

Resolved, 5. The General Assembly recommends the observance of the last Thursday in February as a day of prayer for the blessing of God on our various institutions of learning.

Resolved, 6. That the election to fill the vacancies in the Permanent Committee be the first order of the day for Friday morning, and that the election be by ballot.

Resolved, 7. That the Report of the Permanent Committee be published under their direction, and circulated through all the churches.

The same Committee reported the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the memorial of the Presbytery of Iowa City, on the subject of Christian Education, asking the General Assembly, through its Permanent Committee on Education for the Ministry, to aid in erecting Academies and Collegiate Institutions, be referred to that Committee, with instructions to consider and extend aid at their discretion during the year; and to report to the next General Assembly.

The same Committee also reported the following preamble and resolution, viz.:

Communications have been laid before the Standing Committee on Education, in relation to Ashmun Institute, in Pennsylvania, asking an expression of opinion by this Assembly in favor of its design. It is a seminary for the education of colored young men. It embraces a classical and theological training, especially fitting those trained to labor in Africa.

Testimonials are furnished, in reference to the excellent character of the Principal, and the success attending the first quarter of instruction. It is the judgment of the Committee, that the object is good, and this Assembly may express an opinion favorable to the general object.

They recommend the adoption of the following:

Resolved, That this General Assembly regard with favor the Ashmun Institute, recently established in Pennsylvania, which is designed to give a thorough classical and theological education to colored young men of piety, and thus fit them, as teachers and preachers of the Gospel, to promote the highest good of the African race.

The resolution was adopted.

The same Committee also reported the following minute in reference to Theological Seminaries.

The General Assembly has heard with interest the reports from the Auburn, Lane, and Union Theological Seminaries, and from the Literary and Theological Seminary at Maryville, Tenn. It appears that these Institutions are enjoying a good degree of prosperity. Considerable progress has been made in improving their external condition; Seminary buildings have been renovated and refurnished; liberal subscriptions have been made towards the endowment of professorships, as well as the establishment of scholarships for the aid of needy students. The faculties of these institutions are completely organized with able and devoted Professors; a good degree of the missionary spirit prevails among the students; a kind and liberal sentiment is manifest towards these Institutions in their several vicinities; and the Assembly has reason to believe, that the further necessities of these Seminaries will be as liberally regarded by the whole Church, as their claim is just and imperative.

The Assembly would record with deep regret the decease of the Rev. Isaac Anderson, D.D., late President of the Institution at Maryville.

The ministers, members, and judicatories of these churches, treating each other with Christian respect, shall always recognize the validity of each other's acts and ordinances consonant to the word of God; it being understood, that any ecclesiastical judicatory belonging to either body may examine persons, or review cases of discipline, on points at present peculiar or distinctive to themselves respectively.

The Committee on the Memorial from the Presbyterian Historical Society made a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

The Committee on the Memorial from the Presbyterian Historical Society respectfully report:

That the Society is composed of members of the following branches of the Presbyterian Church, viz.: Those represented by the two General Assemblies; the Associate Church; the Associate Reformed Church, and the two branches of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

The Society at its last annual meeting agreed to memorialize the two General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, on the subject of commemorating, in some appropriate manner, the Reünion of the Synods of New-York and Philadelphia, which occurred in 1758. "Next year," the Memorial observes, "would furnish a Centennial Celebration, whose good influence might be felt far and wide."

The reasons assigned for this Union Celebration in the Memorial are, 1, That it would be a means of historical knowledge. 2, That it would be the expression of gratitude to God for the good resulting from the Union. 3, That "special moral lessons are suggested by the circumstances that led to the division of 1741, and the reünion of 1758;" and, finally, that it would afford an opportunity for cultivating a spirit of fraternal union.

It is proper to observe that the proposition for this Union Celebration came entirely from our brethren of the other branch of our Church, though cordially met, in the same spirit in which the proposition was made, by those members of our Church who belong to the Society. In view of which case the Committee recommend the following action, viz.:

Resolved, 1. That the Assembly are pleased to see, that the ministry and members of the churches under their care are cultivating a spirit of fraternal kindness towards the other branches of the Presbyterian Church.

2. That a Centennial Celebration of so signal an event in the history of our Church, as its happy reünion after seventeen years of separation, commends itself to us as interesting and useful.

3. That a Committee of five be appointed to make such arrangements in connection with the Executive Committee of the Presbyterian Historical Society, for this commemoration, as may be appropriate, in case that the Assembly of the other branch of the Presbyterian Church take similar action.

The Committee on the Polity of the Church, to whom was referred the consideration of a permanent system of Mileage, present the following report:

The Constitution affirms that, "in order, as far as possible, to procure a respectable and full delegation to all our judicatories, it is proper that the expenses of ministers and elders, in their attendance on these judicatories, be defrayed by the bodies which they respectively represent."

The following recommendations are therefore submitted:

That each Presbytery be earnestly requested to contribute annually their full proportion towards the expenses of our General Assemblies.

That this proportion be determined by the number of communicants connected with the Presbytery.

That the rate, per capita, for the next Assembly, be five (5) cents for each communicant.

That each Presbytery be at liberty to apportion their quota among their churches as they shall deem best.

That the Standing Committee on Mileage, annually appointed, estimate and report the probable amount that will be needed to defray the necessary traveling expenses of the Commissioners, and the contingent expenses of the next succeeding Assembly, together with the rate that will be adequate.

That, on or before the fourth day of the sessions of each Assembly, the amount thus contributed be paid to the Committee on Mileage, and a bill be presented by each Commissioner, of his necessary traveling expenses and mileage.

That these bills, having been duly audited by the Mileage Committee, be paid as fully as the funds will permit, after appropriating an amount sufficient to defray the contingent expenses of the Assembly.

That each minister and vacant church connected with those Presbyteries who have contributed their full quota to this fund, be entitled to a copy of the Annual Minutes.

That, in order to avail themselves of the privileges of this plan, the Presbyteries must contribute and forward to the Assembly their full proportion of this fund as thus determined.

Resolved, That the Minutes of this Assembly, with the usual Appendix, be printed under the direction of the Stated Clerk.

The Assembly resumed the consideration of the paper upon the subject of Slavery, introduced last evening.

After amendment, the paper was adopted, and is as follows:

The General Assembly, in view of the memorials before them and of the present relations of the Church to the subject of Slavery, feel called upon to make the following exposition of principle and duty.

The Presbyterian Church in these United States has, from the beginning, maintained an attitude of decided opposition to the institution of Slavery.

The Synod of New-York and Philadelphia, in 1787, two years before the organization of the General Assembly, declared that they did "highly approve of the general principles in favor of universal liberty that prevail in America, and the interest which many of the States have taken in promoting the abolition of Slavery;" and did "recommend it to all their people, to use the most prudent measures, consistent with the interest and state of civil society in the parts where they live, to procure eventually the final abolition of Slavery in America."

In 1793, while the Constitution of the Presbyterian Church was in process of formation and publication, the action of the Synod, just referred to, was approved by the General Assembly and republished by its order.

The Assembly of 1815 declared, "that, although in some sections of our country, under certain circumstances, the transfer of slaves may be unavoidable, yet they consider the buying and selling of slaves by way of traffic, and all undue severity in the management of them, as inconsistent with the spirit of the Gospel. And they recommend it to the Presbyteries and Sessions under their care, to make use of all prudent measures to prevent such shameful and unrighteous conduct."

The Assembly of 1815 "expressed their regret, that the Slavery of the Africans and of their descendants still continues in so many places, and even among those within the pale of the Church;" and called particular attention to the action of 1795, with respect to the buying and selling of slaves.

In 1818, the Assembly unanimously adopted a report on this subject, prepared by Dr. Green of Philadelphia, Dr. Baxter of Virginia, and Mr. Burgess of Ohio, of which the following is a part.

"We consider the voluntary enslaving of one part of the human race by another as a gross violation of the most precious and sacred rights of human nature; as utterly inconsistent with the law of God, which requires us to love our neighbor as ourselves, and as totally irreconcilable with the spirit and principles of the Gospel of Christ, which enjoin, that 'all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.' Slavery creates a paradox in the moral system; it exhibits rational, accountable, and immortal beings in such circumstances as scarcely to leave them the power of moral action. It exhibits them as dependent on the will of others, whether they shall receive religious instruction; whether they shall know and worship the true God; whether they shall enjoy the ordinances of the Gospel; whether they shall perform the duties and cherish the endearments of husbands and wives, parents and children, neighbors and friends; whether they shall preserve their chastity and purity, or regard the dictates of justice and humanity. Such are some of the consequences of Slavery—consequences not imaginary, but which connect themselves with its very existence. The evils to which the slave is always exposed often take place in fact, and in their very worst degree and form; and where all of them do not take place, as we rejoice to say that in many instances, through the influence of the principles of humanity and religion on the minds of masters, they do not—still the slave is deprived of his natural right, degraded as a human being, and exposed to the danger of passing into the hands of a master, who may inflict upon him all the hardships and injuries which inhumanity and avarice may suggest.

"From this view of the consequences resulting from the practice, into which Christian people have most inconsistently fallen, of enslaving a portion of their brethren of mankind—for God hath made of one blood all nations of men to dwell on the face of the earth—it is manifestly the duty of all Christians who enjoy the light of the present day, when the inconsistency of Slavery, both with the dictates of humanity and religion, has been demonstrated and is generally seen and acknowledged, to use their honest, earnest, and unwearied endeavors to correct the errors of former times, and as speedily as possible to efface this blot on our holy religion, and to obtain the complete abolition of Slavery throughout Christendom, and if possible throughout the world."

The Assembly also recommended "to all the members of our religious denomination, not only to permit but to facilitate and encourage the instruction of their slaves in the principles and duties of the Christian religion;" and added: "We enjoin it on all Church Sessions and Presbyteries, under the care of this Assembly, to discountenance, and, as far as possible, to prevent, all cruelty of whatever kind in the treatment of slaves; especially the cruelty of separating husband and wife, parents and children, and that which consists in selling slaves, to those who will either themselves deprive these unhappy people of the blessings of the Gospel, or who will transport them to places where the Gospel is not proclaimed, or where it is forbidden to slaves to attend upon its institutions."

The foregoing testimonials, on the subject of Slavery, were universally acquiesced in by the Presbyterian Church up to the time of the division in 1838.

In the year 1846, the General Assembly made a declaration on this subject, of which the following is the introductory paragraph:

"1. The system of Slavery, as it exists in these United States, viewed either in the laws of the several States which sanction it, or in its actual operation and results in society, is intrinsically an unrighteous and oppressive system, and is opposed to the prescriptions of the law of God, to the spirit and precepts of the Gospel, and to the best interests of humanity."

In 1849 the Assembly explicitly reäffirmed the sentiments expressed by the Assemblies of 1815, 1818, and 1846. In the year 1850 the General Assembly made the following declaration: "We exceedingly deplore the working of the whole system of Slavery as it exists in our country, and is interwoven with the political institutions of the slaveholding States, as fraught with many and great evils to the civil, political, and moral interests of those regions where it exists.

"The holding of our fellow-men in the condition of Slavery except in those cases where it is unavoidable, by the laws of the State, the obligations of guardianship, or the demands of humanity, is an offence in the proper import of that term, as used in the Book of Discipline, Chap. 1, sec. 3, and should be regarded and treated in the same manner as other offences."

Occupying the position in relation to this subject, which the framers of our Constitution held at the first, and which our Church has always held, it is with deep grief that we now discover, that a portion of the Church at the South has so far departed from the established doctrine of the Church in relation to Slavery, as to maintain that "it is an ordinance of God," and that the system of Slavery existing in these United States is Scriptural and right. Against this new doctrine we feel constrained to bear our solemn testimony. It is at war with the whole spirit and tenor of the Gospel of love and good will, as well as abhorrent to the conscience of the Christian world. We can have no sympathy or fellowship with it; and we exhort all our people to eschew it as serious and pernicious error.

We are especially pained by the fact, that the Presbytery of Lexington, South, have given official notice to us, that a number of ministers and ruling elders, as well as many church members, in their connection, hold slaves "from principle" and "of choice," "believing it to be according to the Bible right," and have, without any qualifying explanation, assumed the responsibility of sustaining such ministers, elders, and church members, in their position. We deem it our duty, in the exercise of our constitutional authority "to bear testimony against error in doctrine, or immorality in practice, in any Church, Presbytery, or Synod," to disapprove and earnestly condemn the position, which has been thus assumed by the Presbytery of Lexington, South, as one which is opposed to the established convictions of the Presbyterian Church, and must operate to mar its peace and seriously hinder its prosperity, as well as bring reproach on our holy religion; and we do hereby call on that Presbytery to review and rectify their position. Such doctrines and practice cannot be permanently tolerated in the Presbyterian Church. May they speedily melt away under the illuminating and mellowing influence of the Gospel and grace of God our Saviour.

We do not, indeed, pronounce a sentence of indiscriminate condemnation upon all our brethren who are unfortunately connected with the system of Slavery. We tenderly sympathize with all those who deplore the evil, and are honestly doing all in their power for the present well-being of their slaves, and for their complete emancipation. We would aid and not embarrass such brethren. And yet, in the language of the General Assembly of 1818, we would "earnestly warn them against unduly extending the plea of necessity; against making it a cover for the love and practice of Slavery, or a pretence for not using efforts that are lawful and practicable to extinguish this evil."

In conclusion, the Assembly call the attention of the Publication Committee to this subject, and recommend the publication, in a convenient form, of the testimony of the Presbyterian Church touching this subject, at the earliest practicable period.

Rev. James G. Hamner, D.D., presented, for himself and others, a Protest, which, having been read, was ordered to be placed upon the Minutes, and is as follows:

We, the undersigned Southern Ministers and Ruling Elders, protest against the present decision of the General Assembly.

We protest—Because, while past General Assemblies have asserted, that the system of Slavery is wrong, they have heretofore affirmed, that the slaveholder was so controlled by State laws, obligations of guardianship, and humanity, that he was, as thus situated, without censure or odium as the master. This averment in the testimony of past Assemblies has so far satisfied the South, as to make it unnecessary to do more than protest against the mere anti-slavery part of such testimony.

We protest then, now, That the present act of the Assembly is such an assertion of the sin of Slavery, as degrades the whole Southern Church—an assertion without authority from the word of God, or the organic law of the Presbyterian body.

We protest, that such action is, under present conditions, the virtual excinding of the South, whatever be the motives of those who vote the deed.

We protest, that such indirect excision is unrighteous, oppressive, uncalled for—the exercise of usurped power—destructive of the unity of our branch of the Church—hurtful to the North and the South—and adding to the peril of the union of these United States.

The report was adopted, and the balance in their hands was ordered to be paid to the Stated Clerk for the Contingent Funds of the Assembly.

The Assembly took from the docket the report of the Committee on the terms of correspondence with other bodies, and, after discussion, the minority report was adopted and is as follows:

Whereas, Several of the Associations, in correspondence with this body, have requested the views of this Assembly on the terms of correspondence, especially in regard to the right of reproof and rebuke, therefore,

Resolved, That the General Assembly have never intended to refuse to Corresponding Bodies any rights or privileges which are compatible with true delicacy, courtesy, and Christian charity; in the light of which, this body respectfully requests all Corresponding Bodies to interpret all past acts of the Assembly.

The report of the Committee on the Records of the Synod of Mississippi, recommending their approval, as far as written, was adopted.

The Committee appointed to prepare an answer to the protest of Rev. James G. Hamner, D.D., and others, presented a report, which was adopted, and is as follows:

ANSWER TO THE PROTEST.

In reply to the protest against the action taken by the Assembly on the subject of Slavery, the Assembly make the following remarks:

1. The present action of the Assembly on this subject is in perfect harmony with the testimonies of former Assemblies, and consists chiefly in a reäffirmation of those testimonies. The General Assembly has never "affirmed that the slaveholder was so controlled by State laws, obligations of guardianship and humanity, that he was, as thus situated, without censure or odium as the master." It has only conceded, that certain exceptional cases may exist, such as are defined in the Resolutions of the Assembly of 1850, and approved by this Assembly.

2. We see nothing in the present action which is unconstitutional, or which "degrades," or even reflects upon, any portion of the Southern Church, which still abides by the old doctrine of the Presbyterian Church in relation to this subject.

3. With respect to the complaint, "that such action is, under present conditions, the virtual excinding of the South," the Assembly observe, that no such excision is intended, and we cannot perceive that it is in any wise involved even by remote implication. We have simply reäffirmed the established views of the Presbyterian Church on the subject of Slavery, and distinctly condemned the new and counter doctrines which have been declared and defended by some within our bounds.

4. With regard to the allegation, that our action in this case is "unrighteous, oppressive, uncalled for," usurpatory and destructive of great interests, we need only say, that it rests on the groundless assumption, that this action is an "indirect excision" of the South. If our Southern brethren shall break the unity of the Church, because we stand by our former position, as in duty bound, the responsibility for the consequences will not rest on the Assembly.

The Assembly proceeded to consider the report of the Standing Committee on Church Extension, in relation to the Annual Report of the Permanent Committee on Church Extension.

The report was adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Church Extension, having examined the report of the Permanent Committee on Church Extension, only deem it necessary to recommend the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1. That while this General Assembly would make no change in the general basis of our operations in the department of Church Extension, yet in view of the fact that, as experience shows, great and perplexing delays are found to result, in many cases, from a literal and rigid adherence to the restrictions under which the Committee on Church Extension have acted hitherto, they are hereby authorized to exercise their discretion, in relation to such applications for aid, as may seem to require prompt and immediate action.

Resolved, 2. In view of the rapid growth of the population in the newer sections of our country, and the consequent demand for explorations, and the establishment and support of churches, that a large increase in the funds of the Committee is imperatively needed for the prosecution of their work during the coming year; and that it is hereby recommended, to all the churches in our connection, to make this one of their regular objects of annual contribution.

Resolved, 3. That a Committee of nine be appointed at this time to confer with the Executive Committee of the American Home Missionary Society, in reference to our relations with that Society.

The following persons are hereby nominated for appointment in the place of those members of the Permanent Committee, on Church Extension, whose term of office expires at the present time, viz.: Joseph B. Sheffield, Thomas P. Sparhawk, Hon. Joseph Allison, Benjamin J. Wallace, S. W. Fisher, D.D.

The above nomination was confirmed by the Assembly.

Messrs. Roe Lockwood, William A. Booth, and J. Milton Smith, were appointed the Committee to audit the accounts of the Trustees of the Church Erection Fund.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures, reported Overture No. 4, relating to the recent action of the American Home Missionary Society, in respect to churches having slaveholding members. The Committee recommend that the subject be referred to the Committee of Conference with the American Home Missionary Society.

The Report was adopted.

The Assembly took from the docket the report of the Standing Publication Committee, in relation to the Annual Report of the Permanent Committee on Publication. The report was adopted, and is as follows:

The Standing Committee on Publication, to whom was referred the fifth Annual Report of the Presbyterian Publication Committee, the third Annual Report of the Trustees of the Presbyterian House, and several other papers, report to the Assembly, as the result of the examination which they have had an opportunity of giving to these documents, recommending the adoption of the following resolutions:

1. Resolved, That the General Assembly express their gratitude to the great Head of the Church, for the prosperity of the publication cause, now relieved from its embarrassments, and placed upon a permanent foundation.

2. Resolved, That the General Assembly notice with pleasure the manifestation of promptness and liberality in the President of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian House, John A. Brown, Esq., of Philadelphia, who, by a munificent donation, has secured to the Trustees the legal title of the Presbyterian House.

3. Resolved, That the power of the press, in promoting true piety and a wide-spread intelligence among our population, is an instrumentality appointed of God, and now put into our hands, to be employed for the advancement of the general interests of religion, and for the prosperity of our own denomination.

4. Resolved, That the Publication Committee be encouraged, to publish not only such works as may present the peculiarities of our branch of the Christian Church in doctrine and practice, but, from time to time, such works of an evangelical character as may be profitable to the Church at large.

5. Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, that "The Trustees of the Presbyterian House" be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to act in their corporate capacity as Trustees of the Permanent Committee of this Assembly, called "The Presbyterian Publication Committee," as fully and in the same manner, as if "The Presbyterian Publication Committee" were themselves constituted a corporation by the same authority which incorporated "The Trustees of the Presbyterian House."

6. Resolved, That we recognize, with gratitude to God, the completion of the labors of the Publication Committee, by which the Assembly is furnished with a book of Psalmody which they can call their own, the profits of which will materially aid the funds of the Church in the Publication cause; and the Assembly hereby recommend, to the pastors and the churches, that they use all reasonable diligence in promoting uniformity, by the introduction of this book.

7. Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed by the Publication Committee, to prepare a book of tunes adapted to the Church Psalmist, and that this Committee be instructed to consult and correspond with pastors and leaders of choirs in the churches, as to the particular tunes most in use and most popular in the congregations; and that this Committee report to the next General Assembly.

8. Resolved, That the preparation of an appendix to the Church Psalmist, of such hymns as may be necessary to make the work complete, be committed to N. S. S. Beman, D.D., Rev. Albert Barnes, and S. W. Fisher, D.D., and that this Committee report to the next General Assembly.

9. Resolved, That the Committee appointed by the last General Assembly to prepare an arrangement of the Book of Psalms for chanting, a specimen of which is presented with their report, be directed, in the completion of their work, for the sake of bringing the book into as small compass as possible, to leave out the titles of the Psalms, and all comments upon the text, and only arrange the words to the music; and in publishing the work, the copy of an English print, accompanying the report, is commended as a model.

10. Resolved, That as the publisher of the "Parish Psalmody," in a memorial made to the Assembly, seems to suppose that he has some pecuniary claim upon the Assembly, though the Permanent Committee of Publication, to whom this subject has been referred, have decided that there is no just claim, yet, as a Christian method of answering the memorial and settling the question in dispute, the whole subject be referred to a Committee, to report to the next General Assembly in respect to this claim; of which Committee one shall be appointed by said publisher, one by the Permanent Committee of Publication, and the third by these two.

11. Resolved, That the Treasurer's accounts of the Publication Committee, and of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian House, which have been presented duly audited, be approved.

12. Resolved, That it be enjoined upon all our churches to make an annual collection for the Publication cause, in the month of October.

13. Resolved, That an annual sermon be preached before the General Assembly, on the subject of Publication, and that for the next year Rev. Albert Barnes be the preacher, and Rev. Henry B. Smith, D.D., be the alternate.

The Moderator and Stated Clerk were directed to sign, on behalf of the Assembly, "An Address from American Christians to the Evangelical Conference which is to be held in Berlin, in the month of September, 1857," a copy of which was presented to the Assembly; and the Rev. Henry Smith, D.D., was requested to represent the Assembly in that Conference.

The report of the Committee on the Polity of the Church, to whom was referred the consideration of the question, "Whether any three ministers of a Presbytery are a quorum to transact business?" was postponed.

Hon. Joseph Allison and Rev. Henry A. Riley presented a Protest against the appointment, by the Assembly, of a Delegate to the Synod of the German Reformed Church; which was ordered to be placed upon the Minutes, and is as follows:

The undersigned protest against the action of the Assembly, in appointing delegates to the Synod of the German Reformed Church:

Because they believe the said Church has departed from sound orthodoxy in many particulars, especially upon the baptismal and sacramental questions.

Because the German Reformed Church in this country has become in many respects Romanizing in its policy and doctrine.

Because the Synod of said Church, at a late session, adopted a report of a Committee of their own body, which in effect denied the special influences of the Holy Spirit.

Jos. Allison.
Henry A. Riley.

The Delegate to the Synod of the German Reformed Church was directed to make inquiries of the Synod upon the subjects contained in this Protest.

Adjourned until 7¾ o'clock P.M.

Concluded with prayer.

WEDNESDAY, June 3d, 7¾ o'clock P.M.

The Assembly met, and was opened with prayer.

The minutes of the last session were read and approved.

The Assembly proceeded to the consideration of a series of resolutions, previously presented, in reference to the inadequate support of the Gospel ministry. After discussion, they were indefinitely postponed.

The following resolution, introduced in the morning, was adopted:

Resolved, That a Committee of ten be appointed, four of whom shall be members of Presbyteries where Slavery exists, whose duty it shall be, to meet and confer together in reference to the means which may be safely and properly employed to remove slaveholding from our churches; and that the Committee report, to the next General Assembly, whether any, and what means can, in their judgment, be effectually employed for this purpose, with the concurrence and co-operation of our Southern brethren; and if, in their judgment, no such means can be employed, that the Committee recommend such measures as they deem best calculated to secure the permanent peace and prosperity of all our churches.

The Rev. George L. Prentiss, D.D., Rev. Jonathan F. Stearns, D.D., Rev. Thomas Brainerd, D.D., Rev. William C. Wisner, D.D., Rev. D. Howe Allen, D.D., Rev. Harvey Curtis, Rev. Timothy Hill, Samuel H. Perkins, and Cyrus P. Smith, were appointed the Committee of Conference with the Home Missionary Society.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Assembly be presented to the Rev. Samuel W. Fisher, D.D., for the very dignified and impartial manner in which he has presided during the deliberations of this body; and for the courteous and Christian bearing, which, in his official capacity, he has constantly maintained during the exciting debates of the present sessions.

Resolved, That the thanks of the General Assembly be presented to the numerous railroad companies who have forwarded and returned the members of this Assembly, at a reduced price, on their way to and from this city.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Assembly be tendered to the citizens of Cleveland, for the generous hospitality extended to the Commissioners, and others in attendance, which has rendered their stay in the Forest City so peculiarly pleasant; with the assurance of our fervent prayer, that the blessing of the God of Peace may rest upon them.

Resolved, That the thanks of the Assembly be returned to the Committee of Arrangements, for their promptness and activity in providing for our comfort.

Also, that the thanks of this Assembly be returned to the Trustees of the Second Presbyterian Church, for the accommodations extended to the Assembly during its present sessions.

Also, to the Press, for its full and minute report of the proceedings of the Assembly during its sessions.

The minutes of the session were read and approved.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with.

The business of the Assembly having been finished, and the vote having been taken for the dissolving of the Assembly, the Moderator, with prayer and the Apostolic benediction, declared the Assembly dissolved; and required another General Assembly, chosen in the same manner, to meet in the 2d Presbyterian Church, or some other church designated by the Committee of Arrangements, in the city of CHICAGO, Illinois, on the third Thursday of May, 1858, at 11 o'clock A.M.

APPENDIX.

I. Annual Narrative

OF THE

STATE OF RELIGION

WITHIN THE BOUNDS OF THE

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

IN THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

MAY, 1857.

Of the one hundred and eleven Presbyteries constituting the General Assembly, seventy-five have furnished Narratives of their religious state.

It is impossible to read these Narratives without emotion. They come from every section of our land. They reflect the sentiments of earnest men in widely differing circumstances. They show the most affecting contrasts in outward condition and gracious life. They image with singular distinctness the varying fortunes of Christ's army. They seem to bring one into close, sacred contact with Christ's body. They make one feel, almost without figure, the throbbings of Christ's heart.

In reading these Narratives and grouping their vast mass of facts together, we note, with high satisfaction, and grateful recognition of Jehovah's covenant faithfulness, that, despite all oppositions and discouragements, despite the worldliness of many who profess Christ's name, the enmity of unregenerate hearts to holiness and truth, the ignorance, delusion, infidelity, depraved appetite, and especially the agitations of our times, the Church, the past year, has made decided progress. We cannot give, in full, the proof of what we thus affirm. We simply state some few undoubted illustrations of augmenting power.

ADVANCE IN CONTRIBUTIONS.

First, then, among the evidences of an increasing vigor and efficiency in our denomination, we specify a large advance in contributions to Church purposes and the common objects of benevolence. Scarcely a Presbytery has omitted to record the erection or repairment of church edifices, in many instances at great cost. Some Presbyteries speak cheeringly of recent liquidations of church debts. Some tell of houses built or building to supply their ministers with homes. Some specify such church-extension enterprises as involve considerable expenditures, which yet are freely met by a generous, liberal-minded membership. And all, without exception, witness to a growing interest, as shown the past year by money gifts, in the numerous agencies for evangelizing our country and the world. These varied contributions are frequently referred to in the Narratives, without the slightest data for an estimate of their aggregate amount. It is confidently believed, that in no one year has their sum been as great as in the year just closed. It is much to be regretted that our published statistics of benevolent contributions are so imperfect, as to be almost worthless for an annual comparison.

GREATER ACTIVITY IN CHRISTIAN LABORS.

A second evidence of an increasing vigor and efficiency in our denomination is an activity, greater than before reported, in labors for Christ. These labors are of different kinds; some long recognized and stamped with the emphatic sanction of experience; some recently begun, yet proving fully their adaptedness to the peculiar aspects of our work.

Among these labors, those connected with the religious training of the young, hold a place of special prominence. The Presbyterial Narratives reveal the fact, that the past year has witnessed unprecedented numbers of the young collected into Sunday-Schools and Bible-Classes. From some statistics embodied in these Narratives, we estimate, that not less than one hundred and fifty thousand youth, each Sabbath day, are brought under the direct influence of the Scriptures and the Sanctuary. Nor is evidence wanting, that this influence is attended by the special power of the Holy Ghost. "In one Church," we are told, "where, as the fruit of a recent revival, some forty persons are indulging hope of having passed from death to life, almost every one of the forty is either a Bible-class or Sabbath-school scholar, and the average age of the converts is only sixteen years."

Not only in the Sunday-schools and Bible-classes long established is this activity in Christian labors shown, but the past year has witnessed an unusual enterprise and zeal, among the churches in cities and large towns, to seek out the children of the poor and wretched, and collect them into Mission Schools. This effort is connected with another of great promise. A systematic visitation of the families neglecting the sanctuary has been begun, in many places, with the happiest results. The uniform testimony of the Presbyteries, reporting facts in this connection, is that the effort has furnished professed Christians an important means of grace, whilst it has added very largely to the attendance in the schools and in the churches. It has had, moreover, the seal of God's approval. Not a few of the wanderers out of the way have been reclaimed, and brought to blessed fellowship with the Father and his Son Jesus Christ.

This increased activity, which over all the Church is beginning to display itself, finds an additional illustration in those Presbyteries which are brought into contact with slaves. The heart of Christian love is evidently yearning over those who are in bonds. One Presbytery testifies: "Within the bounds of our churches, the Gospel is regularly and with effect dispensed by our ministers to the slave population." Another Presbytery reports: "The pastors and elders of the churches hold repeated meetings for the colored people, wherever they seem to be called for, while these people are always welcome in all our congregations." And still another Presbytery says: "There is considerable preaching to the colored people." These are but specimens of similar statements. We record them with great pleasure, as evidencing that, amid the conflicts of opinion and the strifes of parties, the claims of a dependent people to share with others the blessings of the Gospel, are not overlooked.

Another illustration of increased activity in labors for Christ is found, in the inauguration by many Presbyteries of such missionary arrangements, as promise to supply the destitutions in their respective fields. The feeling is becoming stronger year by year, that every Presbytery must occupy the wastes that lie around it; that, whilst the field is the world, there is a special obligation to begin at Jerusalem. The past year has brought out this feeling in new forms. We regard the fact as foreshadowing the true policy of such a Church as ours, and as the precursor of good things to come. We know nothing more touching than the simple story, in some of the Narratives, of enterprises undertaken, sacrifices made, toils encountered, burdens borne, in order that an empire, the grandest that the sun looks down upon, may be won for Christ.

GROWING PERMANENCY IN THE PASTORAL RELATION.

A third evidence of an increasing vigor and efficiency in our denomination is the growing permanency in the pastoral relation. We have been especially struck with the indications of this fact embodied in the Narratives. Presbyteries in every section of the country speak of "a growing sentiment in the churches," that the ministry is entitled to better pecuniary support than heretofore afforded. They tell us that quite a number of the churches have, the past year, added liberally to salaries; because it is beginning to be seen and felt, that one grand cause of sundered pastorates is the cruel poverty, to which too many pastors have been thoughtlessly doomed. They tell us, that the conviction is becoming general in some quarters, that, if the churches would secure God's blessing, they must first be just to God's laborious servants. They give, in this connection, emphatic testimony to the greater efficiency of those churches where the pastors are well supported. They express, in numerous instances, their satisfaction, that the pastoral relation exists between so many of their ministers and churches, and their purpose to discourage mere supplies. They declare, that the tendency to change is giving way to sentiments, conditioning the best church growth upon the permanent coöperative toils of pastors and their flocks.

We hail this utterance of the Presbyteries with unfeigned joy. We account it full of precious blessing. We believe that nothing would so enlarge, establish, and bless our Zion as to settle faithful pastors in all our churches, and to make the relation permanent by generous support and cordial coöperation.

GROWTH OF HEALTHY DENOMINATIONAL FEELING.

A fourth evidence of an increasing vigor and efficiency in our denomination, is the rapid growth of a healthy denominational feeling. This growth is confined to no locality, but reveals itself in every section of the Church. A Presbytery in the extreme North-west says: "We are growingly denominational." A Presbytery in the extreme East says: "On every hand, there are the most gratifying indications, that our people are beginning to act with efficiency, from an intelligent conviction that our Church ought to do her own work." A Presbytery midway between the Hudson and the Mississippi says: "The churches present nothing indicating a want of unity and harmony, or of confidence in the principles, doctrines, and order of our branch of the Presbyterian Church. A more thorough acquaintance with its genius and mission has tended to strengthen and confirm our faith in, and to increase our attachment to, its doctrines and polity." Still another Presbytery, in a locality quite remote from those just cited, and representative of a large, important section of the Church, thus writes: "As a Presbytery we would record with gratitude our conviction, that there is among us an increasing sympathy for, and coöperation with, our beloved Zion, in her attempts to meet her weighty responsibilities."

These oft-repeated declarations of attachment to our denomination find abundant confirmation in the Narratives. It is especially encouraging to note, that many Presbyteries, in every part of our extended field, bear willing testimonies to the wisdom and necessity of those great plans of church development, which our Assemblies, the few past years, have been laboriously perfecting. The feeling evidently is, that our Church is summoned to a work which she must do, or fail in loyalty to Christ. The indications plainly are, that common sentiments and sympathies, like some vital force, are beginning to pervade our Zion, and to constrain her sons to pray: "Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces."

LONGING FOR REVIVALS.

Another and the last evidence, that we cite, of an increasing vigor and efficiency in our denomination is, the intense longing, breathed through all the Narratives for a general, glorious outpouring of the Spirit. The past year has not been one which may be characterized as a year of revivals, although many churches in many Presbyteries have been greatly quickened, and some have been favored with spiritual influences of extraordinary power.

But where God has sent and has withheld these gracious showers, the feeling is alike profound, that nothing can or should content the Church but floods of light and love, which, sweeping away the Church's worldliness, shall bear on ample tide "the fullness of the Gentiles" unto Christ. One Presbytery says: "The dearth of revival influences is alarming." Another writes: "To our enlargement and highest edification, revivals are indispensable." Still another witnesses: "The Church needs a refreshing from the Lord for her growth; nay, for her very existence." And still another touchingly declares: "We would, with our brethren in other parts of our Zion, and on our bended knees, offer the prayer of Habakkuk: 'O Lord! revive thy work.'"

This longing for revivals we cannot but consider a cheering indication of the noblest life. Next to a state of actual revival is the sense of its need, and the struggle to attain it at any sacrifice of treasure, toil, or time. We trust that the period is not distant, when this state of actual, general, glorious revival shall be ours; when the Church, "seeking the Lord God by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes," shall find the annual record of her progress a blessed realization of the prophet's vision: "Thou shalt be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God. Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken; neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate; but thou shalt be called Hephzibah, and thy land Beulah."

In conclusion, whilst rejoicing that the Church lives, and furnishes the past year most cheering proofs of increasing energy, we are not to be unmindful that her sons die. We record in this, as in every Annual Narrative, the decease of a number of our brethren, who, resting from their labors, say to us: "Work, while it is called to-day." THE REPORTS OF DELEGATES.

I. To the General Conference of Maine.

In accordance with the appointment of the General Assembly, I attended the annual meeting of the General Conference of Maine, held at Calais, in June last. I am happy to say, that I was most courteously and cordially received by that body, and that its whole bearing toward our Assembly was of the most fraternal sort. No proposition was offered, nor a word uttered, in the meetings, looking to a discontinuance of the correspondence with us. The Delegate to our last Assembly spoke, in the most decided terms, of his kind reception among us. And I took the liberty to assure the body, that however a just self-respect might be wounded by a meddlesome or dictatorial spirit, our Assembly would always listen, not only with pleasure, but with edification, to such frank yet respectful statements of the views of our brethren in Maine, as fell, last spring, from the lips of their worthy representative. The action of the Conference of 1855, in regard to coöperation in Home Missions, was, in the best spirit, reäffirmed.

It was a great gratification to your Delegate, to note the singleness of purpose, earnestness, and devotedness, which so clearly characterized this General Conference. Maine is, to a considerable extent, a missionary field. Not a few of the churches are feeble, and most of them are subjected to a trying process of depletion. Many of their richest gems, both of piety and of intellect, are being constantly transferred to other regions. Yet, while the pastors are thus sowing for others to reap, no feeling of discouragement possesses them. The whole body was evidently animated by an unfaltering and self-sacrificing missionary spirit.

It was stated, that the manifestation of the Spirit's presence and power, within the bounds of the Conference, had been more general and signal than for many years. Much attention was given to the various enterprises of philanthropy and Christian benevolence. The cause of Temperance in the State, it was thought, had received a check; but the Conference still earnestly favored it, and expressed their undiminished attachment to the principle of Prohibition. The subject of American Slavery awakened no little interest. Several hours were devoted to the consideration of the question of Christian duty in regard to it. And your Delegate was happy to find, that the views of the body were in general harmony with the oft-repeated testimonies of our own beloved Church.

The Rev. S. M. Gould was appointed the Delegate of the Conference to our General Assembly.

ASA D. SMITH.

New-York, May 23, 1857.

II. To the General Association of New-Hampshire.

The undersigned respectfully reports, that, according to appointment by the General Assembly of 1856, he attended the last Annual Meeting of the General Association of New-Hampshire.

The Association met in Exeter, in that State, on Tuesday, the 26th of August last, and was in session three days.

It was attended by representatives from nearly, if not quite all, of the fourteen District Associations within the State, and by delegates from various evangelical denominations who were in correspondence with it.

From the reports received, on the state of religion, from the different districts comprised in the field of the General Association, it was apparent that the pastors, as a body, were laborious, faithful, and devoted to their calling; but that, through death and emigration, many of the churches and congregations were decreasing in numbers, and in ability to support the Gospel, in their respective localities, and to help on the work of evangelization elsewhere.

A few churches were represented as having, within the year, received some additions to their numbers, by profession of their faith, but revivals had not of late been enjoyed.

The cause of Temperance was represented as suffering—of Intemperance as gaining friends, and immorality as consequently advancing. The cause of human freedom, or Anti-Slavery, was represented as having a prominent place in the minds of the people composing the churches and congregations, and as constituting a distinct and important subject of the minister's preaching, and other forms of labor.

The state of religion was, therefore, in many of its aspects, in the bounds of the General Association, quite cheerless and depressing. But all was not dark. Thousands of professed followers of Christ were there, and many faithful and devoted ministers of his Gospel were there, who zealously labored to counteract the evils which seemed so numerous and threatening. Besides the ordinary objects, which in every parish require attention, they take a lively interest in the cause of Education, and in Bible, Tract, and Missionary Societies. And they appear to be walking in the faith and order of the Gospel, and in harmony among themselves.

The undersigned, as the Delegate from the Assembly, was received by the Association with courtesy and fraternal kindness. His communication of the Assembly's Christian salutations, and his narrative of the facts and things relating to the history of the churches in connection with the Assembly since the visit of the Delegate in 1855, were received with evident satisfaction, and followed by kind and appropriate expressions.

In the progress of the sessions, it became manifest, however, that some disturbing forces had been at work, whose influence had caused some apprehension in regard to the practicability of continuing the correspondence, which has so long and so happily been maintained between the Association and the Assembly.

The chief grounds of unhappiness were, the acts of the General Assembly, in regard to "Church Extension," (seeking "to plant Presbyterian churches in various places, in advance of all others,") and in regard to "remonstrance" and "rebuke" from corresponding members, in the case of the Delegate from the General Association of New-York to the Assembly.

It was proposed to discontinue the correspondence. The decision, however, on that matter, after considerable discussion, was postponed; and measures were fallen upon and agreed to, which, it was hoped, might result in a mutual understanding in regard to the matters of difference, and relieve the Association from the burden of the responsibility, which would devolve upon it in case of an immediate decision, as had been proposed.

It was gratifying to the undersigned, to see the Association take the course indicated. For it seemed to him that, if properly understood, there was not sufficient ground in the action referred to, to justify a separation of the bodies; and he entertained the hope, that the lapse of time, and fraternal explanations, with the reflection that might be had, in the period required for the measures to be employed, would save a disruption, and a necessary cause of reproach of the Protestant religion, by the enemies of the Gospel.

What will be the result time must show. It was an object of the undersigned, to set the action of the Assembly clearly, and in its true spirit and design, before the Association; and to show, that it violated none of the principles involved in the true idea of Christian fellowship, or the compact which did exist, or might be supposed to exist, for the purpose of edification between the two bodies.

In conclusion, he would say, that his visit to the Association was one of deep interest. There was manifested by the brethren who composed it a kind and Christian spirit. The differences that have obtained between them and the Assembly on a few topics, it is hoped, can be soon adjusted, and harmony be fully restored. Let us earnestly labor for such a result, that we may "cut off occasion from those who desire occasion" to blaspheme and hinder the progress of evangelical truth in the earth.

Very respectfully, E. R. FAIRCHILD.

New-York, May 19, 1857.

III. To the General Convention of Vermont.

The General Convention of Vermont, to which I was appointed a Delegate by the last General Assembly, held its annual sessions at Waterbury, June, 1856. As your Delegate, I was cordially received; and, by many members of the Convention, much interest was manifested in the prosperity of the Presbyterian Church.

The business of the Convention was dispatched in a systematic and earnest manner. The religious exercises were characterized by a high degree of spiritual fervor and devotion. The benevolent enterprises of the day received a due share of attention. From reports, it appeared, that an enlarged spirit of benevolence prevails now, as heretofore, throughout the State.

The chief source of grief to the Convention was the increasing destitution of the preached Gospel in the rural districts. The feeble and unsupplied churches are so numerous, as to present an alarming state of things. This destitution was attributed to the constant emigration to the West.

During the sessions of the Convention, the Vermont Home Missionary Society held their anniversary. The most important subject of discussion was, the best means of supplying with the Gospel these waste and destitute places. The measure which they adopted must be of great interest to the General Assembly, since it is no other than the Church Extension plan of the Presbyterian Church. They proposed to raise $3000, as a special fund, to employ Itinerant Missionaries, to labor in feeble churches and destitute places. This enterprise is to be entirely outside and independent of the ordinary Home Missionary work. Your Delegate took occasion to congratulate the Convention, on the employment of this supplementary agency to the American Home Missionary Society, and to assure them, that we had so long and painfully felt the necessity of it, that we could bid them God speed in their noble work; and the more especially because it was a practical approval of a plan to save feeble churches from extinction, and to plant new ones, for adopting which they had slightly censured our Assembly the year before.

The Convention, with great unanimity, appointed Delegates to this Assembly; and seemed desirous of continuing the fraternal intercourse with the Presbyterian Church. Harmony, Christian fellowship, and earnest zeal for the extension of Christ's kingdom, pervaded the Convention during the entire session. E. M. ROLLO.

IV. To the General Association of Massachusetts.

The undersigned was appointed, by the last General Assembly, their Delegate to attend the Annual Meeting of the General Association of Massachusetts, which met in the following June in Salem. In pursuance with this appointment, he attended the meeting of the Association, and was received and treated with Christian kindness and courtesy. He presents herewith, to the Assembly, a copy of their Minutes, which contain the statistics of their churches, and other information of interest to the Assembly.

The most exciting subject of debate before the Association, and the one in which the Assembly is most interested, was contained in a resolution to cease fraternal correspondence with the Assembly, by not appointing, hereafter, Delegates to attend its meetings. The reason urged in support of the resolution was, the Assembly's complicity in the evils of slavery, and their refusal to receive and profit by what our brethren deemed merited rebuke. The action of the Assembly in the appointment of a Church Extension Committee, and the rude and unfair interference of some Presbyterians in the West with their Congregational brethren, in the establishment and maintainance of their churches, of which bitter complaints were made by some Delegates from Western Associations, were also referred to in support of the resolution.

Your Delegate felt the responsibility of his position, and the importance of presenting the views, which, he believed, the Assembly entertained; and begs leave, therefore, to present the purport of them in this report.

He stated, that the Church which he represented would learn with regret, that there was any disposition, on the part of their brethren, to cease the fraternal correspondence which had existed for so many years, and the fruits of which were seen in their united efforts to spread the Gospel, and establish its institutions, both at home and abroad: that as all these efforts, with their fruits, had grown out of this fraternal correspondence, and the confidence in each other which it had induced, so its withdrawal, on their part, especially for the reasons assigned, would, it was feared, in a short time, supplant these co-operative, by denominational, efforts, in which the spirit of Christ would be supplanted by the bitterness of sectarian rivalship; that your Delegate could conceive of nothing that would occasion deeper regret, than that those devoted missionaries, from both branches of the Church, who for years had been urging forward, hand in hand, and shoulder to shoulder, the triumphs of the Gospel, in heathen lands, should now be torn apart, if not arrayed in hostile attitude toward each other, in consequence of the want of confidence that had been expressed on the floor of that Association, in the purity of the Church which your Delegate represented. The Assembly, he was confident, would take no part in an act that threatened such consequences, nor be in any sense responsible for it. If the channels, through which the Christian sympathy and efforts of both denominations had so long flowed, for fertilizing the moral deserts of the world, must now be filled up, our brethren of the Association must do it themselves: and if, in doing it, it should be found that they had given the Ark of God an unhallowed touch, they must bear the responsibility before God and the Christian world.

Your Delegate, in referring to the reasons by which this step was urged, claimed for the Assembly, that they had done, according to their best judgment, what duty called them to do on the subject of Slavery; that they had never refused, and, your Delegate believed, never would refuse, to sustain the exercise of discipline, for the violation of Christian duty, on the part of its churches or church-members, when regularly brought before them, on this or any other subject; that, with all Christians, the Assembly believed that there were circumstances, which justified the continuance of the legal relationship between masters and slaves, for purposes benevolent toward the slaves themselves. But that against the sin of Slavery, it had ever borne its uniform and decided testimony; that it guarded with jealousy the right of free discussion, in which the Delegates of the Association enjoyed the utmost freedom, without let or hindrance; and if, now, they had any new light to give on any subject connected with the business of the Assembly, it would be thankfully received and duly appreciated; that when a subject had been discussed, and the deliberate judgment of the Assembly recorded, the minority had the right to protest, and to record their protest with reasons on the Minutes of the Assembly, provided it was done in respectful terms; but the right claimed—to come upon the floor of the Assembly and rebuke and reprove it, for its solemnly recorded judgment after a full and free discussion, and the liberty of protesting — neither the Assembly nor the Association of Massachusetts, nor any other deliberative body, could yield, without the sacrifice of self-respect.

In regard to the appointment, by the Assembly, of a Committee on Church Extension, your Delegate stated, that it had been done by the Assembly in good faith, and without any intention to come in conflict with the principles of coöperation, on which our churches had acted with the American Home Missionary Society; that it had been so stated, both by the Committee and the Assembly; and your Delegate claimed the confidence of the Association in their declarations, until, at least, the Committee had violated in their action those principles, and in that violation had been sustained by the Assembly.

In regard to the complaints of the Western Delegates, your Delegate remarked, that while he would be far from intimating, that there had been any intentional misrepresentation, the Association would remember, that the statements which they had heard were entirely ex-parte. It would not be difficult, he presumed, to find an equal number of Presbyterians, and of equal reputation for veracity, who would urge as great, if not greater, grievances against their Congregational brethren; that such conflicts were indeed unhappy, but they pertained to that residuum of imperfection connected with the best earthly institutions; and that it would be best to leave their correction to the officers of the American Home Missionary Society, who, it was hoped, would inculcate on all their missionaries, the duty of cultivating a Christian, and not a sectarian spirit.

With these remarks in vindication of the Church that he represented, your Delegate left the subject to the disposal of the Association, assuring them, that if, in their wisdom, they should judge it best that this correspondence should cease, the Assembly would by no means urge its continuance; but ever pray, that God would greatly succeed all their efforts in building up the kingdom of our common Lord and Redeemer in this world.

After a good deal of discussion, the Association resolved—"That the subject of continuing their present correspondence with the Presbyterian churches be referred to the District Associations, to report at their next meeting." Two Delegates were then appointed to meet this Assembly, to whom this Assembly, as has ever been done, will extend its kind and cordial welcome.

All which is respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM R. DEWITT.

Harrisburgh, Pa., May 21st, 1857.

V. To the Evangelical Consociation of Rhode Island.

Agreeably to the appointment of the General Assembly of 1856, the undersigned attended the Annual Meeting of the Evangelical Consociation of Rhode Island, as its Delegate, and respectfully submits the following as his report:

Twenty churches are represented in the Consociation, by a Pastor and Delegate each. The body, though small, includes in its number some of high distinction in the Christian community, whose presence imparts to its sessions a dignified character. From the accounts rendered, it appears that the churches in its connection are enjoying a good degree of prosperity.

From some of the speeches made in the early part of the meeting, it soon became evident, that there was not a little jealousy, and even direct hostility, entertained toward our branch of the Church, both by some of the members of the Consociation, and by certain representatives of other bodies present, on the ground partly of its alleged encroachments on Congregational rights, and partly of its supposed complicity with Slavery. In consequence of this fact, your Delegate took special pains, in the course of his remarks, to vindicate the decided anti-slavery character of the Assembly, as indicated in its recorded resolutions, and to explain also its denominational position, as both independent in itself and courteous toward others. He concluded by tendering his brethren every assurance of fraternal regard, and by urging the importance of overlooking minor differences in the earnest endeavor to hold fast the bonds of Christian fellowship, in this crisis of our nation's history.

In response to his speech, the following preamble and resolution were moved, and after a protracted discussion, adopted by a majority of three votes:

"Whereas, The General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church, with which we are in correspondence, regarding slaveholding as not inconsistent with the Church of Christ, decline receiving fraternal remonstrance and reproof, from corresponding Christian bodies, who may differ from them on this subject: therefore,

"Resolved, That we cannot, consistently with our principles and Christian obligation, continue correspondence with these bodies."

Pending the debate which ensued, your Delegate endeavored to explain the action of the last Assembly, referred to in the above preamble, as bearing solely upon the General Association of New-York, with whom certain issues had been raised; and he took the liberty of disclaiming, on the part of the Assembly, any intention to deny the right of mutual remonstrance between Christian bodies, when such remonstrance was predicated upon matters clearly shown to be wrong, and was conducted in a becoming manner. In addition, he proposed, if the Consociation were not satisfied with his explanations, that they should suspend action, and appoint a Delegate to inquire more fully into the intentions of the Assembly, as involved in the Resolution under consideration. These representations proved of no avail in arresting a measure, which had every appearance of being a foregone conclusion. For four years had the question of cutting off correspondence with the Presbyterian Church been in agitation before the Consociation, and now it was decided affirmatively, by the aid of advocates gained by considerations arising from the action of the Assembly towards the General Association of New-York, which was construed as applying to all Congregational bodies.

The infelicity of the result thus reached is relieved, in a measure, by the fact, that it was earnestly resisted by a majority of the ministers present, and most of these of longest standing in connection with the Consociation; who made eloquent speeches in favor of continued correspondence, and signally rebuked the schismatical temper which ruled in their younger brethren. The very mover of the Preamble and Resolution himself—whose motives in the matter were above all suspicion of wrong—declined voting at the last, in favor of his own measure.

On taking leave of the Consociation, your Delegate tendered it his cordial wishes for its continued prosperity; and expressed the hope, that, however ecclesiastically sundered for a season, Congregationalists and Presbyterians would all meet, at last, in one General Assembly above.

The Moderator cordially responded.

Respectfully submitted, D. W. POOR.

Newark, N. J., May 1st, 1857.

VI. To the General Association of Connecticut.

The General Association of Connecticut, to which body the undersigned was appointed a Delegate, by the last General Assembly, held its Annual Meeting at Middletown, Connecticut, on the 17th of June, 1856.

The number of District Associations connected with the General

Association is fifteen, comprising 283 churches; of which 196 are reported as having pastors, 38 stated supplies, and 46 destitute. The prosperity of these churches, during the year, was indicated by a net increase in the number of members, and a growing liberality in sustaining the various branches of Christian charity. Fifteen of the number are reported as having been "refreshed by the quickening and sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit."

Your Delegate was received with great cordiality, and made to feel that he was among brethren of essentially the same faith and order with ourselves.

Some misunderstanding had gained prevalence in the body, respecting the character and objects of the Assembly's scheme of Church Extension. It was regarded by many, and noticed in the Report of the Connecticut Home Missionary Society, as conceived in the spirit of rivalry with Congregationalists, and as an infringement of the policy and mutual understandings on which the American Home Missionary Society was founded.

Your Delegate deemed it his duty to assure the brethren of Connecticut, that nothing was further from the intentions of the Assembly. They had done nothing more than what they were perfectly willing their Congregational brethren should do—nothing more than what those brethren had been doing in various ways, for a course of years. The Assembly had no desire to interfere with the proper functions of the Home Missionary Society. That Society had been, from the beginning, and still was, dear to the hearts of Presbyterians. The Church Extension Committee, like the Church Erection schemes of the Albany Convention, and of the General Assembly, was established to meet a manifest want, which the Home Missionary Society, by its rules, could not supply, and was expressly limited to that object. The Society, as its whole history proves, was never intended to exclude other agencies for the advancement of religion in our country; and it was our hope, instead of diminishing the contributions of our churches to the funds of the Society, to stimulate and increase them.

There was another point on which misunderstandings had arisen, threatening to sever the relations of correspondence, which have so long subsisted between the Association and the Assembly. The action of the last Assembly on the resolutions of the Association of New-York had been interpreted as denying, to bodies corresponding with us, the right of fraternal remonstrance and reproof in all cases whatsoever.

Your Delegate referred the Association to the history of this action, and showed them, that while a single phrase, taken apart from its connection, would admit of that interpretation, it was manifest, both from the preamble to the Assembly's resolution, and the circumstances which called it forth, that such was not the true interpretation. As respects the subject of Slavery, no body of Christians in the United States, not excepting the General Association of Connecticut, had given as much time, or as free a latitude, to the discussion of that subject; and its recorded testimony now stands in the front rank of anti-slavery protests. So far from being disposed to deny to their brethren the right to remonstrate courteously, on that or any other subject which seemed to them to require such remonstrance, the Assembly always had received, and, he believed, always would receive such remonstrances, in a spirit as fraternal as that in which they were made. While they claimed the right to conduct their own affairs in their own way, and would allow the right of review, in such matters, to no body of men whatsoever, they would be thankful for any light which their brethren could throw upon the path of their duty, whether in respect to Slavery, or any other subject, and for any opinions, or remonstrances, which should be made in the spirit of Christian courtesy.

After considerable discussion, resolutions looking towards the discontinuance of correspondence were exchanged for one of inquiry, which the Delegates from the Association are instructed to communicate to the General Assembly, and a copy of which will be found appended to this Report. Your Delegate would only add, that the resolution referred to was conceived, and adopted, unanimously, in the spirit of the most cordial friendship; and a reply, such as the Assembly will be disposed to give, will, he believes, relieve the minds of many, from an honest misunderstanding, and cement the bonds of Christian fellowship between us and our brethren of Connecticut.

Respectfully submitted,

J. F. STEARNS.

Newark, N. J., May 4th, 1857.

The following is a copy of the resolution referred to in the above report:

"It was moved and unanimously Resolved, That the Delegates to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church be instructed to communicate to that body, that the General Association of Connecticut are unwilling to interpret the Resolution on the terms of intercourse with corresponding bodies, passed by the General Assembly at its late session in New-York, as intending that which its terms would seem to require. The language of the Resolution is: 'We can admit no right of our Congregational brethren to review our proceedings or to reprove or rebuke us for what we may or may not do.' Although this language was addressed specifically to a single Congregational body, it apparently affirms a principle applicable alike to all bodies. The General Association are even more adverse to any literal interpretation of this language, since they have heard the very courteous and fraternal address of the Assembly's Delegate. Believing that the terms of the above-named Resolution were selected inadvertently, and expecting an answer that will be entirely satisfactory, the General Association asks of the General Assembly a more specific declaration of its intent in the aforesaid action. The point on which the Association desire to be better informed, is, whether the General Assembly decline all inquiry and admonition, fraternally offered, by bodies in correspondence with them."

VII. To the General Association of New-York.

The undersigned attended, according to appointment, as your Delegate, the sessions of the General Association of the State of New-York, held at Albany, in October last. He was kindly received and courteously treated by the brethren.

The previous action of the Assembly, on the subject of correspondence between the two bodies, elicited a protracted discussion; during which considerable feeling was manifested. Every indulgence was allowed your Delegate in expressing his views, which he did at considerable length.

On the subject of the General Assembly's denying the right of Corresponding Bodies to review their proceedings, your Delegate took the following ground: "The Assembly do not deny the right of any body to express dissent from what they do. Brownson might do that in his Review. We never intended to take any such ground in reference to this reverend body. In this sense, you have the undoubted right to review our proceedings as much as you please; just as you may look at the proceedings of any other body, as the Reformed Dutch Church, or the Baptist Church. But, in the Assembly's action, 'review' and 'reproof' go together, and are preceded by the term 'censure;' showing that the Assembly meant 'review' in the sense of being brought for 'reproof' to your bar, not actually, but in effect, and thus censured by you. We never took the ground that you might not express to us your views in reference to our course. We never took the ground that you might not, if you wished, kindly remonstrate with us for any thing that has been done by us. That has been done by other Associations, and not a word of fault has been found with them. But the Assembly took the ground, that, when an ecclesiastical body in correspondence with us, assumes such an attitude as to appear to bring us to their bar, to reprove us for our conduct, such assumption must be relinquished, or the correspondence must cease; that it cannot be maintained upon any such principle."

Again; in a correspondence upon the same subject your Delegate says: "The Assembly complained, not that you remonstrated, but of the manner of your remonstrance. They thought it somewhat 'oracular and dictatorial.' They are perfectly willing, that Congregational bodies should address them on subjects of mutual interest, if it is done in a courteous manner, just as they would be willing to address them in return. But they are not willing in effect to be brought to the bar of a Corresponding Body and 'reproved and censured' by them. They are not willing to be bearded upon their own floor with epithets so unseemly, that even the body from whence they came are, upon a sober second thought, grieved that they should have used them. When they are acting conscientiously, and doing what, all things considered, they think is for the best, they are unwilling to be considered unchristian, and to have their conduct characterized as 'abhorrent.' They do not mean to curtail the privileges of Delegates from Corresponding Bodies, but they do mean to protect themselves against that which is unseemly and 'discourteous.'"

Your Delegate has introduced these extracts, that the Assembly may fully understand the course taken by him, and the manner in which he expounded the action which he was sent to communicate.

The Association greatly doubted, whether the Assembly were rightly understood by their Delegate, and the undersigned would be much gratified if his view is considered the correct one, and, if they in their wisdom shall think best, to be sustained by the Assembly in this matter.

The Association resolved, for the present year at least, not to send a Delegate to the Assembly. Thus they have assumed the responsibility of interrupting, and probably of terminating for ever, the correspondence between the two bodies.

All of which is respectfully submitted, W. C. WISNER.

Lockport, N. Y., May 21st, 1857.

VIII. To the Presbyterian and Congregational Convention of Wisconsin.

The undersigned would respectfully report, that, agreeably to the appointment of the General Assembly of 1856, he attended the Congregational and Presbyterian Convention of Wisconsin, which met at Milwaukee, in October last.

The Convention was composed largely of men in middle life, who, with large hearts and strong minds, are cultivating one of the noblest fields the Master has committed to any portion of his Church. Though of different denominations, they work together with perfect harmony, having, in the honor of Christ and the salvation of souls, an end higher and better than mere denominational extension.

Their discussions of all the questions which came before them, pertaining to Missions, Education, and Slavery, were fraternal, and yet earnest and animated.

Your Delegate was cordially welcomed; and the wish to continue the correspondence was manifested, by the appointment of a Delegate to the present meeting of the Assembly. D. H. ALLEN.

Walnut Hills, O., May 21st, 1857.

IX. To the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in the United States.

Agreeably to the appointment of the General Assembly, I attended the sessions of the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, in Reading, Pa., May 14th, 1857, and was very cordially received by them. I wish that I could convey to the General Assembly the impressions made upon my mind, at the discovery of a noble body of men, whose views on the subject of spiritual religion, the ministry, the doctrines of revealed truth essential to salvation, Home Missions, and Education, accord so nearly with our own.

In connection with the General Synod, there are 643 ministers, 1365 churches, and 124,943 communicants. In addition to these, are other Synods of the same evangelical character, not in connection with the General Synod, which, together, constitute a body larger than our own. This arm of the Church is the most admirably adapted to labor among the German and Scandinavian population of our country, and a wide field of usefulness is open to them. Their colleges, theological seminaries, and literary institutions, are numerous, and ably conducted. Their determination to secure a thoroughly educated and pious ministry, and their success attained under the leadership of the Rev. Dr. Schmucker, and his excellent compeers at Gettysburgh, and in the other literary and theological institutions, are without a parallel in the history of churches in this country.

The following resolution is herewith presented:

"At a meeting of the General Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, held in the city of Reading, Pa., May 20th, 1857, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That we have heard with much pleasure Dr. Rowland's representations of the condition and encouraging prospects of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, of the Christian sympathy entertained in that large and respectable body in behalf of our Lutheran Zion, and of their desire to coöperate with us in the extension of Christ's kingdom, and the promotion of vital godliness; that we very cordially reciprocate their kindly feelings and friendly wishes, and will gladly unite with them in a Christian correspondence, and in their prayers and efforts for the advancement of the best interests of the Church of our common Lord and Redeemer.

"M. L. STOEVER, Secretary."

In conclusion, it seems to me very desirable that the correspondence, so auspiciously begun, should be continued; and that our several churches should be closely united in a spirit of coöperation, and in the bonds of true Christian love.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

HENRY A. ROWLAND.

Newark, May 21st, 1857.

X. To the Synod of the German Reformed Church in the United States.

The service required of me, as Delegate to the Synod of the German Reformed Church, was duly and cheerfully performed. It was in itself pleasant, and its recollections are delightful.

This Synod, venerable ecclesiastically, (having held its one hundred and tenth Annual Meeting,) and venerable on account of the age of several of its members, and the wisdom and piety that it embodies, met at Reading, Pa., Tuesday, Oct. 21st, 1856. It was opened with a sermon by the Rev. Henry Harbaugh, who was subsequently appointed as Delegate, Primarius, to attend upon the sessions of this Assembly.

I was cordially received, and treated with all the attention that Christian courtesy and fraternal affection demand.

The proceedings of the Synod were dignified, harmonious, and prayerful; manifesting a high regard for ecclesiastical order, Christian gentleness, and the fear of God.

Down to the year 25 of this century, the Records of the Synod were kept in the German language; but since that time, they have been preserved in English, although the German is still used extensively in religious worship and church deliberations.

The disposition to favor those benevolent enterprises, which distinguish this age, is increasing among our German brethren. During the sessions of the Synod, they have exercises promotive of several of these objects.

On this occasion, the reports from their missionaries, both at home and abroad, wore an encouraging aspect, and indicated a very zealous devotion to the cause of Christ.

The meeting in behalf of Foreign Missions was rendered peculiarly interesting, by the presence and labors of the devoted brother from Aintab. The Rev. B. Schneider, after an absence of twenty-two years, was permitted to return from his missionary field, to address his ministerial brethren and Christian friends in the church to which he had formerly belonged—of whose Sunday-school he was the Superintendent, whose present Superintendent was then one of his scholars.

In respect to the cause of Education—particularly the education of young men for the Gospel ministry—the facts in this Synod are strikingly in contrast to those that prevail within the bounds of our Assembly. Our German brethren are compelled, through want of funds, to turn away large numbers of worthy applicants; while the great lamentation with us, has been, and still is, to an affecting degree, the want of men. We have the means, but not the men; they, the men, but not the means.

Respectfully submitted, GEO. W. WARNER.

XI. To the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in the United States.

The undersigned, appointed by the General Assembly of 1856, an alternate Delegate to the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in the United States, to meet at Cedarville, Ohio, on the third Thursday in May, 1857, would report that he was present at that meeting, according to his appointment. He was received with every token of respect and kindness which the warmest friend of our Church could desire. Every facility for an explanation of the position, present state, and aims of our denomination, was afforded; and his assurances of fraternal interest were received with apparent confidence and gratification. The proceedings of the Synod were characterized by a high degree of deliberation, courtesy, and seriousness. Great prominence was given to the exercises connected with the Lord's Supper, in which all the ancient usages, to which so much historical interest is attached, were carefully maintained; and not only revived the recollection of the martyrs of the covenant, but tended to awaken their spirit. A proposal to change the representative character of the Synod, so as to give each minister and one elder from each congregation of the Reformed Church, a seat, in accordance with its original Constitution, and the plan of the Reformed Presbyterian Synods of Scotland and Ireland, was for some time discussed, but was finally declined. A correspondence with their brethren, from whom they had formerly been separated, on the subject of a reünion, had been previously opened, and was now continued under circumstances of discouragement, but with an eminently Christian spirit. Much zeal was shown in behalf of the doctrines of our common Westminster Confession; and yet your Delegate was highly gratified with the evidence given, that they were quite as anxious for the true life and power by which these should be animated. Though eminently conservative and jealous of innovation, their eye was fixed distinctly upon the great movements of the present day. Sympathy was expressed for all whom they regarded as oppressed, or laboring for the reformation of public morals. Among their regular committees and items of business, was one which referred especially to the signs of the times. A day of fasting is always appointed, for each year, with reference to national and generally prevalent sins, and is observed by custom before each quarterly communion; and an annual thanksgiving is in like manner appointed. One Foreign Mission is sustained, in connection with the Presbyterian Board, in India. Domestic Missions are prosecuted with commendable zeal, and it is said that no denomination of Christians in our country give more liberally, in proportion to their numbers, than they. The youth are very strictly educated and trained, and few of these are believed to forsake the principles and practice of their forefathers. Although sacramental communion is not extended to any who do not receive the particular principles of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, and submit to its authority, the unity of the visible Catholic Church, in all its branches, is scrupulously recognized; and they profess themselves ready to coöperate cordially, in all general movements for the conversion of the world, and for the defence of our common Christianity. A Delegate was appointed, last year, to attend the General Assembly of 1857, who was detained by official duty; but his place was supplied by the appointment of another of their most distinguished members, at the recent meeting; and a desire was expressed, that the correspondence now so pleasantly commenced may be continued without interruption. The attention of the Assembly is hereby directed to the Articles of Correspondence, herewith transmitted, adopted by the Synod in 1837, and which are still proposed as the basis of our intercourse, but which have not received the assent of the Assembly of our Church.

Respectfully submitted, C. P. WING.

I. EXTRACTS FROM THE FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT OF THE PRESBYTERIAN PUBLICATION COMMITTEE.

* * * * * * *

The year 1857 will ever be a memorable one to the Publication cause; for to it will be referred the completion of the $25,000 requisite to secure the Presbyterian House, the purchase of the Church Psalmist, according to the recommendation of the General Assembly, and the long-desired possession of some available capital with which to commence a regular system of publication.

Next to the completion of the fund necessary to secure the Presbyterian House, and its invaluable charter to the General Assembly —both of which were the direct results of the labors of your Committee, but the details of which more appropriately belong to the Trustees of the House—your Committee would call the particular attention of the Assembly to the purchase of the Church Psalmist.

At a very early period after the division, even as far back as A.D. 1840, it became a matter of no small solicitude to the General Assembly, for many and obvious reasons, to secure a uniform system of Psalmody for our churches. Hence, in looking for some book to which they could give their cordial approval, they found it in the Church Psalmist, by the Rev. N. S. S. Beman, D.D. This work had been to the author a labor of love for more than twenty years. First, after long and patient investigation, he had wrought out the principles on which it should be constructed; next, he had looked at the lyrical character of each psalm and hymn, taken as a whole; then, verse by verse, he had carefully weighed and scrutinized every doctrinal sentiment that it contained: finally, line by line, not only by reading them from the pulpit, but by the singing of a thoroughly instructed choir, he had fully satisfied himself as to the correctness of their prosody.

Thus prepared, the impression of the Assembly in its favor has been fully confirmed by the experience of the churches themselves. Already, the book has run through sixty editions, and for the six months ending Jan. 1st, 1857, the sale amounted to nearly 10,000 copies. Let this rate of sale continue only a few years longer, and our Psalmody, as to uniformity at least, will be all that could be desired.

It is but due to the venerable author of the Psalmist, to say that in all the negotiations of your Committee with him touching this matter, he has manifested a deference and respect to the wishes of the Assembly, that we trust will not be without their appropriate acknowledgment.

It also gives us pleasure to say the same thing in reference to the publishers, Messrs. Ivison & Phinney.

* * * * * * *

The stereotype plates which have thus come into possession of your Committee, are as follows:

1. The pulpit size, (which is as good as new,) of which there is one set.
2. Two sets of the middle size, (one never yet used, and the other nearly new.)
3. One set of the small size, which will do, with care, for many years.
4. A set of plates, the Appendix to the Social Psalmist, which is music arranged for that book.
5. A new and enlarged Index of subjects for the pulpit copy.
6. An Index of Scriptures, to which the hymns refer.

All that is now wanting to render the Church Psalmist complete, is a satisfactory Appendix; and then we believe our denomination will have just occasion to congratulate itself on the possession of a Psalm and Hymn Book inferior to no other similar book in our country.

For the last two years, with the exception of Almanacs for 1856 and 1857, to which we have endeavored to give the form of a denominational tract, for the current year, your Committee have studiously avoided incurring expenses for publication, that we saw no reasonable prospect of meeting from our Treasury. Already involved, some of us personally, and all as a Committee, with neither charter, nor property, to fall back upon, and relieve us from individual liability, we have sustained our operations and credit at no ordinary amount of toil and self-denial. Though not without our strong misgivings, that the claims of the religious press in our denomination did not stand on an equal footing with that to which they were justly entitled, and cordially admitted, by every other denomination in the land; that they had only reached the head of our body, and had yet to find the way to their heart; still we are willing to believe, that this indifference was rather apparent than real, and that as soon as the $100,000 fund for Church Erection was completed, the cause of Publication would be equally well provided for.

When, therefore, in answer to the appeal of your Committee, in their last Report, and their full and candid statement of the embarassment into which they were thrown, while endeavoring for a period of four years to keep the enterprise alive without funds, the Assembly of 1856 recommended to the churches to take a simultaneous collection of not less than $30,000, in the ensuing December, they were prepared to expect a response, all the more generous for having been the longer delayed.

Elaborate editorials in most of our religious papers; extensive action in the large majority of our Synods; printed circulars and private correspondence on the part of your Committee; above all, the importance and supposed popularity of the object to be accomplished in the purchase of the Church Psalmist; all led us to believe that at least a moiety of the $30,000 would be secured from the denomination generally. But December came, and December passed, and, instead of $30,000, we did not, as our portion, receive $5000. Though not absolutely forgotten; though some churches, whose names have been upon our roll for 150 years, and others too young as yet to have their name enrolled at all, remembered her in their benefactions; yet the whole amount thus realized, was alike unworthy of the Assembly's recommendation and of the cause. The collection may have been a simultaneous one, so far as it went, but it certainly was not a general one. It became but too evident that all hopes of retaining the Presbyterian House would soon be gone for ever.

In this exigency, two of our members were appointed a Sub-Committee, to wait upon a gentleman who had already taken a deep interest in the progress of our enterprise, and entreat his friendly intervention to save us from the extremely awkward and unpleasant predicament in which we found ourselves as a denomination. Their appeal was successful, but the answer to it made conditional. Mr. Brown would give $10,000 to the House, provided an equal amount would be secured by the churches in Philadelphia for the Committee. After an arduous and general effort on the part of the members of the Committee with the churches to which they respectively belonged, the condition was fulfilled.

* * * * * * *

Thus it was that we were enabled to purchase the Church Psalmist, and to save the Presbyterian House and its charter.

* * * * * * *

It is of vital importance to the successful prosecution of our enterprise, that there be also an increase of funds. The little capital that we now have will almost immediately be absorbed, in payment for the Church Psalmist. The rents of the House being sacredly pledged to the donors as a Sinking Fund, for the extinguishment of the mortgage, will not, of course, be available for several years to come. We would, therefore, respectfully submit to the wisdom of the Assembly:

1. The appointment of some day, at as early a period in the fall as possible, for a general collection throughout our churches.

2. The annual appointment, by the Assembly, of a sermon on its behalf, and that the preacher of said sermon, with an alternate, be appointed for the coming year.

3. The adoption of the following resolution by the Assembly, in order to secure to the Committee the full advantage of the charter of the Presbyterian House:

"Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, in the United States of America, that the Trustees of the Presbyterian House, be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to act, in their corporate capacity, as Trustees of the Permanent Committee of this Assembly, called the Presbyterian Publication Committee, as fully, and in the same manner as if the Presbyterian Publication Committee were themselves constituted a corporation, by the same authority which incorporated the Trustees of the Presbyterian House."

Your Committee further report, that on the 5th of February, 1857, Rev. William H. Spencer tendered his resignation as Secretary of the Committee, and that, after the business of the Committee had been for some time conducted by the voluntary service of its own members, the Rev. John W. Dulles was appointed to said office.

Also, that the term of service has expired of the following members of the Committee, viz.: Rev. John Jenkins, Rev. Benjamin J. Wallace, Samuel H. Perkins, Esq., Samuel T. Bodine, and Charles S. Wurts.

Your Committee herewith present an audited account of the Treasurer of the Committee, Mr. William Purves, of which the following is an abstract:

Balance, per last report, ...	$236 94
Sales at Depository, ...	4,302 14
Donations, ...	3,645 71
Proceeds of notes discounted, ...	1,477 24
	$9,662 03
By sundry expenditures, as detailed in Treasurer's Report,	$9,430 86
Balance, ...	$232 77

All of which is respectfully submitted,

GEORGE DUFFIELD, JR.,
Secretary pro tem.

II. THIRD ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PRESBYTERIAN HOUSE.

The Trustees of the Presbyterian House, in presenting their Third Annual Report to the General Assembly, would express their thanks to the great Head of the Church, that no breach has been made in their numbers, but that their lives have all been mercifully preserved.

The Trustees are grateful also that they are able to report, though not precisely in the way that was expected, entire success in the charge committed to them. In our last Report it was stated, that about $15,000 were necessary to carry out the original plan for the purchase of the House, so as to leave but $20,000 a ground-rent, to be paid from the rents of the building. As the Presbyterian Publication Committee also needed funds, the Assembly, combining the two objects, directed a simultaneous collection of $30,000, to be equally divided between the Trustees of the House and the Publication Committee. It is with regret that we are obliged to state, that the response to this appeal of the General Assembly was not what it ought to have been.

The Trustees were unable to account for this result of an appeal, from our General Assembly, to a Church, whose liberality is inferior to that of none other, possessing only equal means. It had been our wish, that the House should not only be the property of the General Assembly, but that it should so far be paid for by the whole Church, as that every Presbyterian should feel a personal interest in it, and it was with reluctance that this agreeable idea was abandoned. Looking at the result of the simultaneous collection, and being entirely unwilling to believe, that its meagre product was an index of the generosity of our Church, we began to fear that the very beauty and eligibleness of our House might, through some mistaken idea that Philadelphia wished to gratify a local pride, have prevented the outflow of liberality. Instead of feeling with us joy and gratitude that our whole Church now had this pleasant home for such of our Institutions as the Assembly might see fit to establish in the Presbyterian House, we began to fear that the Church might be restrained, in their contributions to these Institutions themselves, by the idea that their liberality was not to tell immediately upon their objects. It was thought, therefore, under these circumstances, that it might be best to abandon the original idea of collections from the whole Church, and to pay for the House in Philadelphia itself. We shall regret it, if we have erred in this, and in any degree mistaken the views and feelings of the Church; in which case, however, ample opportunity will be afforded to correct our mistake, by generous contributions to those Institutions established in the House.

The President of our Board of Trustees, feeling the force of the considerations already alluded to, so soon as it was fully understood that the amount needed to pay for the House, so far that but $20,000 would be left on ground-rent, agreeably to the plan of the General Assembly, would not be realized from the simultaneous collection, at once proposed to pay $10,000, the necessary sum, himself, and as it was understood that the Publication Committee was also in need of funds, for the same reason—the comparative failure of the simultaneous collection—Mr. Brown, with the view of securing funds for that object also, made the $10,000, which he proposed to pay for the House, conditional upon the raising of a similar sum in the city for the Publication Committee. This sum was readily made up, and it is but sheer justice to say, that the whole amount raised in Philadelphia for the Presbyterian House and the Publication Committee, reaches Forty Thousand Dollars. It is cheerfully given, not because Philadelphians suppose, that the Church has special claims upon them, but because they feel a deep interest in her welfare, and trust that our whole Church, so soon as the subject is clearly before them, will respond to our own Institutions with characteristic liberality.

The balance against the Treasury at the last report was $3,384.67. From the report of the Treasurer, herewith transmitted, it will be perceived that the amount received during the past year, from all sources, was,

From rents, ...	$2,747 54
" subscriptions and collections, .	4,357 64	$7,105 18
The expenditures during the past year have been as follows, viz.:
Liquidation of balance against Treasury,	$3,384 67
Ground-rent, taxes, and all other payments as per Treasurer's detailed report audited by the Corporation,	2,983 13	6,367 80
Leaving in the Treasury a balance of		737 38

The original purchase money of the House was $40,000, on which had been paid, at the time of the purchase, $10,000. This money was advanced by five gentlemen, and has now all been returned, none of the generous lenders requiring interest on the loan. The semi-annual ground-rent is due on the 23d of June next, and on that day it is the intention of Mr. Brown to pay over $10,000, the second payment upon the House, when every liability of every kind will be paid off, except the $20,000 which is to remain on ground-rent, until liquidated by the rents of the building. The ground-rent from that day will be $1200, to which is to be added taxes and ordinary repairs to the amount of about $800. As the rents of the building amount to $3000, there is a sinking fund of about $1000 per annum to pay the ground-rent. On the 23d of June, it is expected that the temporary Trustees, H. J. Williams and E. S. Whelen, Esqs., will transfer the property to the Trustees of the Presbyterian House appointed by the General Assembly.

It is with much pleasure that the Trustees thus announce to the Assembly the fulfillment of the most arduous part of the duties assigned them. They trust that this will be but the beginning of a long line of prosperity to the Institutions, which are to have their home in the Presbyterian House.

The Presbyterian Publication Committee find themselves embarrassed in their operations for want of a Charter. As they must necessarily incur pecuniary obligations to some extent, and make contracts with publishers, authors, and others, they are continually undergoing individual liabilities to which it is not right to subject them. The last Assembly authorized an application for a Charter to the Legislature of Pennsylvania, but it appears upon examination of the Charter of this Corporation, that it is amply sufficient for both purposes. All that is required is a resolution of the Assembly, which the Trustees respectfully request your venerable body to pass in the following or similar terms:

Resolved, By the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, in the United States of America, that "The Trustees of the Presbyterian House," be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed to act, in their corporate capacity, as Trustees of the Permanent Committee of this Assembly, called "The Presbyterian Publication Committee," as fully and in the same manner as if "The Presbyterian Publication Committee" were themselves constituted a corporation, by the same authority which incorporated "The Trustees of the Presbyterian House."

The Board have only further to report that the term of the following Trustees expires during the present sessions of the Assembly: Albert Barnes, John C. Farr, David H. Riddle, Charles S. Wurts, and Benjamin J. Wallace.

As it is required, that there should be an equal number of ministers and laymen in the Board, it will be necessary to elect at this time three ministers and two laymen, who must also, by the terms of the Charter, be citizens of the State of Pennsylvania.

All which is respectfully submitted, approved and passed by the Board, May 12, 1857.

BENJ. J. WALLACE, Secretary.

III. SECOND ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CHURCH EXTENSION COMMITTEE.

To the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America:

The Church Extension Committee, in presenting their Second Annual Report to the General Assembly, would express their thankfulness to the great Head of the Church, that the life of every member of the Committee and of their missionaries has been spared, and that the same entire harmony has marked our deliberations and conclusions which characterized the first year of our operations.

The following have been our missionary operations during the time embraced in our report:

1. The Rev. Edward D. Neill has continued his efforts in the Territory of Minnesota. In addition to his other engagements, he has planted a Second Presbyterian Church in the city of Saint Paul, called "The House of Hope," to which he is now ministering. This enterprise has been greatly favored, and it is probable that it will not need missionary assistance after the present year.

2. The Rev. W. H. Williams and the Rev. Asa Martin have been our exploring missionaries in the Synod of Iowa. Mr. Martin has not made application for a renewal of his commission. Mr. Williams continues his connection with the Committee. These brethren have traveled extensively, have preached the Gospel, and have organized churches wherever an opportunity presented itself. The brethren of the Synod of Iowa consider such labors indispensable in the present state of their Synod. The Church Extension Committee of that Synod, as well as that body itself, coöperate very cordially with us.

3. The Rev. John Kidd has continued his labors in the South Church, Milwaukee. He has been very successful in his efforts. The house of worship is full of attentive hearers; and it is his opinion and that of the brethren around him that his church will need no more aid, after their building is so enlarged as to accommodate all who wish to worship with them.

4. The Rev. J. H. Trowbridge has been commissioned for the church in Dubuque, Iowa. So successful has this effort been, that it is expected that the church will need aid but a single year, and will at once take its place as a self-supporting church, and exert its influence to sustain the weaker churches in the interesting and important field of which it is the centre.

5. The Rev. A. Hartpence has continued to be our missionary at Nashville, Tennessee. The difficulties of the field are unusually great, yet as Mr. Hartpence feels that he is making progress, and as the brethren of the Synod of West-Tennessee are decidedly of opinion that he ought to be sustained, the Committee have renewed the appointment.

6. The commission of Rev. J. M. McLean has also been renewed for the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Mobile, Alabama. Mr. McLean is very much encouraged. His congregation has much increased, and his hope is, that the church will soon be self-supporting.

7. The Rev. Sidney H. Barteau has been appointed exploring missionary for the State of Wisconsin, at the request of the joint Church Extension Committee of the Presbyteries of Milwaukee and Fox River. Mr. Barteau has planted several churches, and his labors are very highly esteemed by our brethren in Wisconsin. One fourth of his salary is to be raised on the field.

8. The Rev. E. L. Hurd was, at the request of the Presbytery of Peoria and Knox, Illinois, appointed as exploring missionary in the Presbytery, but left the field at the end of three months.

9. The Rev. Williston Jones has been, at the request of the Church Extension Committee of the Synod, appointed exploring missionary for the Presbytery of Iowa. He is actively engaged in the duties of his appointment.

10. The Rev. Justin Marsh has been, at the request of their Church Extension Committee, appointed exploring missionary for the Presbytery of Monroe, Michigan. Three fifths of his salary are to be raised on the field.

11. The Rev. G. Brown has been appointed, at the request of their Church Extension Committee, exploring missionary for the Synod of Wabash, Indiana. One half of his salary is to be raised on his field.

12. The Rev. Charles Kenmore has been appointed missionary at Cairo, Illinois. This is a very interesting case of purely evangelical enterprise. The brethren of the Presbytery of Alton, feeling that an effort to plant the Gospel should be made in Cairo, a growing city at the confluence of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, raised the money and built a brick church worth $2500, which they presented to a corporation created for the purpose under the laws of the State of Illinois. There is no spiritual church as yet organized. The people in the city, interested in religion and good order, agreed to raise one half the salary of Mr. Kenmore if our Committee would assume the other half for one year. The effort should have the prayers and good wishes of every Christian.

13. The Rev. I. P. Stryker, at the request of the Church Extension Committee of the Synod of Peoria, has been appointed missionary at Urbana, Illinois. Seven tenths of Mr. Stryker's salary is assumed, at once, on the ground, and the brethren think the effort will not long need aid. The church worship in a hall, but a suitable building, they think, will be very soon erected.

The Rev. J. H. Spelman has, at the request of the Church Extension Committee of the Presbytery of Keokuk, Iowa, just been appointed exploring missionary for that Presbytery.

The church at Knoxville, Illinois, has become self-supporting during the year. The church at Dubuque, Iowa, will no longer need assistance after this year, and it is expected that this will be the case with the church at St. Paul, Minnesota. At this point, in regard to all the churches aided, the Committee are steadily aiming.

The Rev. J. G. Wilson, the Rev. E. L. Hurd, and the Rev. Asa Martin, exploring missionaries respectively in the Lake Superior country, in the Presbytery of Peoria and Knox, Illinois, and the Synod of Iowa, have ceased their labors in connection with the Committee.

It is scarcely necessary again to mention what was stated in the last Report, that the Committee have confined their labors carefully to the limits assigned them by the General Assembly. They, of course, do not particularize the cases in which they have felt it their duty to refuse applications.

The report of the Treasurer will exhibit the condition of the finances. The balance in the hands of the Treasurer on the first of May, 1856, was $2158.40. Including the amount since received, the entire resources of the Committee for the ecclesiastical year, were $5066.59.

The expenditures for the year have been $4626.22, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $440.37, which, however, is more than absorbed by drafts now due to missionaries.

It will thus be perceived that, but for balances on hand at the beginning of the ecclesiastical year, it would have been impossible for the Committee to have met its engagements. It is very gratifying to be able to state, that under these trying circumstances, the Committee have been able, though sometimes only by delaying longer than was desirable, to meet every application which they deemed peculiarly urgent and important. The drafts have generally been forwarded punctually, although we regret to state, that there have been instances where missionaries have been obliged to wait for drafts that were over-due.

The Committee earnestly commend this subject to the Assembly. It has not seemed best to put a traveling agent into the field to urge contributions from our churches. It has been our hope, that the small sum that has been needed by the Committee would be raised without this expedient. The Secretary, pro tem., while not feeling it to be his duty to present the claims of the Committee in the pulpit, has exerted himself by correspondence, and, as far as was considered desirable, through the press, to put this matter properly before the churches. He has corresponded with between one and two hundred ministers, pastors of our largest and most liberal churches. The response has not been what we hope for, nor what the cause demands.

The cause seems generally to be regarded as an exceptional one, to be brought in between the special efforts of churches for other causes. But it is believed, that there never has been so small an amount of funds invested, so as to produce a greater amount of good. The applications for the present year, it is presumed, will be larger than for any previous year, and it is earnestly pressed upon the Assembly that some efficient plan be devised for securing the amount of funds that may be necessary. The Committee need the prompt and indeed immediate assistance of the churches.

If no more efficient plan occur to the Assembly, the Committee beg leave to ask that a month be designated, during which, by request of the Assembly, this cause should specially come before the churches.

The term of office of the following members of the Committee expires during the present sessions of the Assembly: The Rev. Samuel T. Spear, D.D., Joseph B. Sheffield, Thomas P. Sparhawk, Hon. Joseph Allison, and Rev. Benjamin J. Wallace.

Unanimously and respectfully submitted. Adopted by the Committee, April 21, 1857.

BENJ. J. WALLACE, Secretary, pro tem.

The whole number of churches, that have been aided from the Fund during the year, is fifty-five, and the total amount disbursed is $19,343. This amount has not as yet been all paid out by the Treasurer, but has been granted by the Board. When a loan or donation is made, a copy of the Bond and Mortgage, prepared by the Board, is sent to the Trustees of the congregation, to be executed by them; and when these papers, properly executed, are returned to the Secretary, and are approved by the Board, a draft upon the Treasurer of the Fund for the amount granted is sent to the Trustees. This draft, however, does not, in all cases, come back immediately. Hence the difference between the amount granted by the Board and the amount actually paid out by the Treasurer. The number of the donations made is twelve, and their average amount is $191. The loans amount to forty-three, and their average is $396.

From these statements, it will be seen that nearly one fifth of the whole Fund has been disbursed during the last six months. This fact, in the opinion of the Board, shows the existence of wise and conservative action on the part of the Synodical Committees. According to the Plan, the loans are made without interset for three years. Two years more, therefore, must elapse before any considerable amount will be returned to the treasury. If the whole amount had been disbursed during the year, there would, consequently, be no adequate means in the hands of the Board with which to meet the wants that will, in all probability, exist during the two coming years—wants, too, that may be even more urgent than any that have been relieved. But these future wants have been anticipated, and wisely provided for, in the limited extent to which the work of distribution has been carried. The remaining four fifths of the Fund, if wisely disbursed, will, most probably, be sufficient to meet all the applications that may be made.

IV. Miscellaneous.

I. EXPENSES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

The attention of the Presbyteries is called to the plan, proposed on p. 399, for the raising of an annual fund, to defray the traveling expenses of Commissioners, and the contingent expenses of the General Assembly.

II. ANNUAL MINUTES.

Price, as determined by the Assembly of 1854, forty cents, and no charge for postage. A copy will be sent, without charge, to the Stated Clerk of every Presbytery, and of every Synod; also to every Minister, whose address is known, and whose Presbytery has contributed to the Mileage Fund its full apportionment.

III. SYNODICAL REPORTS.

A Statistical Report is to be forwarded to the Assembly by the Stated Clerk of every Synod, in which are to be stated the number of Presbyteries, ministers, churches, licentiates and candidates within their bounds, and how distributed; the changes which may have been made in the number or arrangement of their Presbyteries; the place and hour of their next Annual Meeting, and the names of the Moderator and Stated Clerk.

IV. PRESBYTERIAL REPORTS.

It is required of every Presbytery to prepare and forward to the General Assembly—

1. A Statistical Report, according to the form exhibited on page 453 of the present Appendix, of which a printed blank will be furnished in due season, by order of the Assembly, to the Stated Clerk of every Presbytery. This Report should, if possible, embrace all the changes in the Presbytery previous to the first day of April.

2. A Narrative of the State of Religion within the bounds of the Presbytery for the year ending April 1st. These Narratives should specify facts in regard to the particular churches, their state, trials, encouragements, and prospects; how many of them, and which, have enjoyed revivals of religion through the year; in which of them the Catechisms are taught, Sunday-schools and Bible-classes organized, the number of scholars in each, etc.; also the decease, if any, of the ministers of the Presbytery during the year. Also, as directed by the General Assembly of 1854, its various arrangements for Church Extension; stating the number of its ministers, and the particular manner in which they are employed; the number of its churches, and how they are supplied; the gross amount of funds collected in its bounds for Home Missions and Church Erection; the amount received by its churches from the American Home Missionary Society, or any similar institution; the number of houses of worship, with their probable value, and whether they are free from debt; the number of new churches organized and new houses of worship erected; what itinerant arrangements have been adopted for preaching the Gospel; what and how much agency has been employed; together with all such other facts and suggestions as will show, from year to year, what has been accomplished, and what may need to be undertaken, to bring all the churches to a proper degree of effort to promote the kingdom of Christ. As the Narratives are not to be publicly read, less care may be given to their style, and more to the detail of particulars, such as will aid the Committee of the Assembly, in preparing their Annual General Narrative of the State of the Church.

V. STATED CLERKS OF PRESBYTERIES.

Attention is requested to the following particulars: Let the Stated Clerk of every Presbytery take special care,

1. That the Commissioners to the Assembly are furnished with a Commission, according to the model prescribed in the Form of Government, chap. XXII., sec. ii.

2. That the Apportionment for the Mileage Fund of the Assembly be, in due season, distributed annually by the Presbytery among its churches, and the amount forwarded by the hands of one of the Commissioners, or by mail, to the Stated Clerk of the Assembly.

3. That the Presbyterial Reports, specified in the previous article, be duly prepared, authenticated, and forwarded. These Reports should be on separate papers, for the convenience of the Assembly in referring them to distinct Committees.

In preparing the Statistical Report, let the following rules be observed:

(1.) Carefully copy the blank form and order of columns, etc., on page ☞ 453.

(2.) Record ministers in the order of their ministerial age, with their Christian names in full, and their address in the adjoining column.

(3.) Place the name of every church opposite the name of its pastor or stated supply; or, if vacant, at the foot of the roll.

(4.) Place, after the name of every minister, an abbreviation, denoting his occupation; e. g.: P., for a Pastor; P. E., for a Pastor Elect; P. C., for a Pastor of a Congregational Church; C. P., for a Colleague Pastor; S. S., for a Stated Supply; H. M., for a Home Missionary; C. M., for a City Missionary; T. M., for a Tract Missionary; S. M., for a Synodical Missionary; P. M., for a Presbyterial Missionary; F. M., for a Foreign Missionary; Pres., for the President of a College; Prof., for a Professor in a College or Theological Seminary; Sec., for a Secretary of a benevolent institution; D. Sec., for a District Secretary; Ag., for an Agent of do.; Ch., for a Chaplain; Tea., for a Teacher; Ed., for an Editor; W. C., for a minister without charge; and Col., for a Colporteur.

(5.) Place after the name of every church the abbreviations, P., for one that has a Pastor; P. E., for one that has a Pastor Elect; S. S., for one that has a Stated Supply; or V. for one that is vacant.

(6.) If a church fails to report, let the "whole number" of communicants be given as reported to the Synod, or to the last Assembly, with an asterisk (*) in the column of communicants denoting the fact.

(7.) In the additions to the church, distinguish between those on examination and those on certificate; in the baptisms, between the adults and the infants; and be careful to observe the order of the columns in which these particulars are recorded.

(8.) In the report of "Funds" contributed observe the directions at the foot of the blank form on the next page, ☞ 453.

(9.) The names of the Licentiates are to be recorded immediately after the list of Ministers, in the same column; but of the Candidates, —including all who are studying for the ministry under the care of the respective churches of the Presbytery,—the number only is to be given.

(10.) Avoid erasures or interlineations, and make names and numbers distinctly legible.

(11.) ☞ ADD UP ☜ every column, and authenticate the Report with your signature.

(12.) Affix no extraneous matter, such as memoranda, explanations or orders for the delivery of the printed Minutes of the Assembly; let these be given on a separate sheet.

☞ If any thing should prevent the forwarding of the Statistical Report in time for the Meeting of the General Assembly, let it be sent, as soon as possible, by mail, to the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly, No. 103 West Thirty-Fourth street, New-York City.
